BONDED WAREHOUSE ACCOUNT.

Quantities of the Principal Articles Imported (subject to Duty) in Warehouse on 31st December 1865; Received into, and Delivered from Warehouse in the Year 1866; and Remaining in Warehouse on 31st December 1866, at the Principal Bonding Ports in the United Kingdom.

IN THE YEAR 1866.

Note.—As inaccuracies are sometimes supposed to occur in this Account, because discrepancies appear, if the Stock remaining in Warehouse be compared with the difference between the Total Imports of an Article and the subsequent Exports and Entries for Home Consumption, the following explanations are given to show that this Account is not susceptible of verification in the manner described:

In the compilation of the Bonded Warehouse Account, every document is used which substantiates a receipt or delivery under any circumstances, and this Account therefore presents an accurate view of the Stock in Warehouse both at the commencement and termination of the period which it embraces.

The column headed "Received into the Warehouse during the Year" includes:—

The Articles which, having been warehoused at one Port, were removed and re-warehoused at another; and under the head of "Wine" it also includes the increase of quantity caused by the addition of Spirits for the purpose of fortifying the Wine in Warehouse.

The column headed "Delivered from the Warehouse during the Year" includes:—

The Articles which, having been warehoused at one Port, were removed and re-warehoused at another.

The Deliveries of the respective Articles for Home Consumption, on payment of Duty.

The Exports of the respective Articles, less the Quantities exported on Drawback or otherwise, subsequently to the payment of Duty.

The Quantities of certain Articles delivered free of Duty for removal to the Victualling Stores of Her Majesty's Dockyards, or for the use of the Officers of Her Majesty's Navy and Army; and the Quantities delivered free of Duty to be used as Ships' Stores on board Merchant and Passenger Vessels, as shown in the Supplemental Account, p. 513.

The Quantities of Tea, Tobacco, Pepper, and other Articles taken out of Warehouse to be destroyed in cases of damage.

Under the head of "Brandy" the Quantities used in fortifying Wine in Bond.

Under the head of "Rum" the Quantities Mixed in Bond, with other Spirits, either British or Foreign, to be eventually exported under the denomination of "Mixed Spirits."

As regards the Quantities of Articles Entered for Home Consumption, which are shown in the General Import Account, it is to be remembered that they comprise the Quantities charged with Duty, and passed into consumption immediately on their delivery from the Ship, as well as the Quantities taken out of Warehouse for Home Consumption.

INTRODUCTORY AND EXPLANATORY REPORT.

The usual Returns necessary for the compilation of the Judicial Statistics have been received for 1866, with the exception of two or three of the Coroners, from all the parties required to furnish information, and will be found abstracted in the Tables in the same form and order as for the preceding years.

In the first or Criminal part a decrease, as compared with the numbers in 1865, is shown in each Division of the Statistics; in the number of indictable offences reported by the Police; in the number of persons for trial, and in the number convicted at Assizes and Sessions; and in the number of criminal commitments to Prison. Only under the head of Summary Proceedings before Justices does any increase appear in the number of offenders.

POLICE AND CONSTABULARY.

Police and Constabulary.

Strength of the Force, (Table, p. 1.)

The numbers of the Police and Constabulary Forces in England and Wales for the year ended the 29th September 1866, as shown in the Returns made to the Secretary of State pursuant to the Act of the 19th and 20th Vict. c. 69, were as follows.—

Commissioners and Assistant Commissioners	4
Chief Constables of Counties	56
Head Constables of Boroughs	136
Superintendents	510
Inspectors	806
Serjeants	2,387
Constables	19,308
Additional Constables (appointed for special purposes)	311
Detective Officers	210
Total Police and Constabulary	23,728

In the total number there is an increase of 478, or upwards of 2 per cent., as compared with the number for the preceding year. The number for 1864–5 showed an increase of 401, or 1·7 per cent., upon the number for 1863–4. The Commissioner of Police of the Metropolis, and the two Assistant Commissioners; the Commissioner of the City of London Police; the County Chief Constables; and the Head Constables of Boroughs remain without change; under each of the other denominations there is an increase, viz, of 9 in the number of Superintendents; of 25 in the number of Inspectors; of 36 in the number of Serjeants; of 323 in the number of Constables; of 53 in the number of Additional Constables; and of 32 in the number of Detective Officers.

Composition of the Force.

The following are the numbers composing the different Forces:—

Constables of Boroughs appointed under the Municipal Corporation Act of 1835	6,777
County Constables appointed under the Constabulary Acts of 1839 and 1840	8,674
Metropolitan Police Constables appointed under the Police Act of 1829	6,839
Her Majesty's Dockyard, &c. Police	739
Constables for the City of London appointed under the City Local Act of 1839	699

Police and Constabulary.

As compared with the numbers for 1864–5 the increase extends to each description of Force, amounting, with regard to the Borough Constables to 175, or 2·6 per cent; with regard to the County Constabulary to 182, or 2·1 per cent; with regard to the Metropolitan Police to 55, or 0·8 per cent; with regard to Her Majesty's Dockyard Police to 16, or 2·2 per cent; and with regard to the City of London Force to 50, or 7·7 per cent.

The total number gives one for every 893 of the estimated Population, showing that the increase of the Police and Constabulary has been more than in proportion to the estimated increase of Population, the proportion for 1864–5 having been one to 902.

The costs of the Police, for the year ending the 29th September 1866, as shown under the following headings, were,—

Salaries and pay	1,390,304	13	10
Allowances and contingent expenses	38,378	13	8
Clothing and accoutrements	130,288	16	9
Superannuations and gratuities	44,706	10	4
Horses, harness, forage, &c.	37,046	5	1
Station-house charges, printing, stationery, &c.	150,334	12	1
Other miscellaneous charges	36,046	4	10
Total costs	£1,827,105	16	7

As compared with the amount for the preceding year there is an increase in the total costs of the Police amounting to 78,647*l.* 17*s.* 1*d.*, or about 4·5 per cent.

The increase extends to every head of the expenditure, excepting clothing and accoutrements, under which there is a decrease of 7,202*l.* 18*s.* 2*d.* or upwards of 5 per cent. In the amount for salaries and pay there is an increase of 67,226*l.* 16*s.* 6*d.* or upwards of 5 per cent; in the amount for allowances, &c. the increase is only 85*l.* 2*s.* 7*d.*; in the amount for superannuations and gratuities it is 1,559*l.* 12*s.* 6*d.*, or upwards of 3·5 per cent; for horses, &c. it is 1,722*l.* 4*s.* 1*d.* or nearly 5 per cent.; for station house charges, &c. it amounts to 10,930*l.* 2*s.* 4*d.* or nearly 8 per cent.; for other miscellaneous charges to 4,026*l.* 17*s.* 3*d.* or upwards of 12·5 per cent.

With regard to superannuations and gratuities, the sum above stated represents only the amount paid from the County Police Rate, or the Borough Fund, or, in the case of the Metropolitan Police from the Metropolitan Rate. In addition to this there are the sums paid from the Superannuation Funds of the different Police Forces, amounting in the whole as shown in the Table, to 40,684*l.* 0*s.* 6*d.*, and raising the total payments under this head to 85,390*l.* 10*s.* 10*d.*, which exceeds the corresponding amount for the preceding year by 5,384*l.* 17*s.* 4*d.*, or 6·7 per cent.

The increase in the amount under the head of salaries and pay is to be accounted for not only by the increase in the numbers of the Force, but also, to some extent, by the higher scale of pay which has been generally adopted.

The effect of the change in the rate of pay is apparent in the increased average cost per man as shown below.

Cost per man.

The following is the average per man for the total number of the Police and Constabulary in 1865–6, and in each of the seven preceding years as calculated on—

	Total Costs.			Salaries and Pay.			Clothing and Accoutrements.

In the cost of the Borough Police there is an increase of 25,874*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.*, or nearly 6 per cent. upon the amount for 1864–5, following an increase of a less considerable amount in each of the four preceding years.

In the cost of the County Constabulary the increase is 26,863*l.* 6*s.* 11*d.* or upwards of 4 per cent., as compared with the amount for 1864–5, following an increase of 13,188*l.* 14*s.* 0*d.* in the latter year, upon the amount for 1863–4, and a still larger increase in 1863–4, upon the amount for 1862–3.

The cost of the Metropolitan Police shows an increase of 20,042*l.* 15*s.* 3*d.*, or upwards of 3½ per cent., upon the amount for 1864–5. In the costs for 1863–4 and for 1862–3, there was an increase, respectively, of 14, 197*l.*, and 23,460*l.*, as compared with the amounts for each preceding year.

In the cost of Her Majesty's Dockyard Police there is an increase of 917*l.* 11*s.* 4*d.*, or less than 2 per cent., upon the amount for the preceding year.

The cost of the City of London Police shows an increase of 4,649*l.* 10*s.* 3*d.*, or upwards of 8 per cent., upon the amount for 1864–5, there having been an increase of 1,576*l.* 7*s.* 2*d.* in the amount for the latter year as compared with the amount for 1863–4.

The total amount contributed from the Public Revenue shows an increase of 15,292*l.* or 3·6 per cent., upon the amounts for 1864–5, there having been an increase of 22,851*l.*, or 5·6 per cent. in the amount for the latter year as compared with the amount for 1863-4, and an increase of 9,722*l.*, or about 2·4 per cent., in 1863–4 upon the amount for 1862–3. Charge on the Public Revenue.

In the amount for the Borough Police the increase is 1,565*l.* or 1·7 per cent., following an increase of 5,027*l.*, or nearly six per cent., and of 3,722*l.* or 4·5 per cent., in 1864–5 and 1863–4., respectively. In the amount for the County Constabulary the increase is 4,876*l.* or 3·8 per cent., there having been an increase of 2,879*l.*, or 2·2 per cent., and of 4,839*l.*, or 3·9 per cent., in the two preceding years respectively. In the amount for the Metropolitan Police there is an increase of 7,932*l.* or 5·0 per cent., following an increase of 13,305*l.*, or 9·3 per cent., and of 2,284*l.*, or 1·6 per cent., respectively, in the two preceding years.

In the number of the Criminal Classes at large, so far as known to the Police, as shown in the Returns for the year ended the 29th September 1866, there is a decrease of 3,060, or 2·6 per cent., as compared with the number for the preceding year. The Criminal Classes, (Table, p. 5.)

In each of the classes of known thieves and depredators, and receivers of stolen goods, the total numbers show a slight increase. In each of the other classes there is a decrease, amounting, with regard to prostitutes, to 2,634 or 9·5 per cent., with regard to suspected persons, to 1,011, or 3·4 per cent., and with regard to vagrants and tramps, to 499, or 1·4 per cent. As compared with the average of the three years (1864–3–2), it will be seen that under every class excepting vagrants and tramps, there is a considerable decrease.

The number of persons apprehended for offences of this description, during the year was 2,676; of these 666 were discharged by the magistrates, leaving 2,010 as the number against whom the evidence appeared sufficient. This number is in the proportion of 39·5 per cent. to the number of crimes of this description reported during the year. In the preceding year, under this class of offences, this proportion was 39·4 per cent.; in 1863–4 it was 59·2 per cent.; in 1862–3, 43·0; in 1861–2, 38·8 ; in 1860–1, 36·0; in 1859–60, also 36·0 per cent.

Malicious offences against property.

Under Class IV., malicious offences against property, the number of offences reported was 465; the number of persons apprehended for offences of this description was 398; of these, 134 were discharged by the Magistrates, leaving 264 as the number against whom the evidence appeared sufficient, this number being in the proportion of 56·9 per cent. to the number of offences of this class reported. In the preceding year, this proportion was 53·3 per cent. under this class of offences; in 1863–4, it was 56·0 per cent.; in 1862–3, 70·4 per cent.; in 1861–2, 54·3 per cent.; in 1860–61, 49·4 per cent.; in 1859–60, 38·1 per cent.

Other offences.

Under the three remaining classes of offences, III., V., and VI., the number of offences reported amounting to 42,135, 21,220 persons were apprehended, of whom 6,556 were discharged, leaving 14,664 as the number against whom the evidence appeared sufficient, this number being in the proportion of 34·8 per cent. to the total number of offences under these classes taken together. In the preceding year this proportion, with respect to these three classes of offences, was 35·4 per cent.; in 1863–4 it was 35·0 per cent.; in 1862–3, 36·7; in 1861–2, 36·3; in 1860–1, 33·1; in 1859–60, 29·4 per cent.

Total offences.

The total number of offences reported, as already stated, was 50,549. The total number of persons apprehended being 27,190, and the total number discharged 8,002, the number against whom the evidence appeared sufficient, was consequently 19,188, this number being in the proportion of 37·9 per cent. to the total number of offences reported. In the preceding year, this proportion, calculated on the total numbers, was 38·7 per cent.; in 1863–4, it was 39·2; in 1862–3, 40·5; in 1861–2, 37·4; in 1860–1, 36·1; in 1859–60, 32·1 per cent.

Summary convictions, (Tables, pp. 21–31.)

In addition to the numbers committed or bailed for trial for indictable offences, of whom, supposing 25 per cent., about the usual proportion, to be acquitted or discharged, about 14,270 would be convicted; there were 339,091 persons summarily convicted by the magistrates.

The total number of persons proceeded against summarily, and the number convicted and discharged respectively during the year, were as follows :—

	Males.	Females.	TOTAL.
Proceeded against	393,181	88,589	481,770
Convicted	286,290	52,801	339,091
Discharged	106,891	35,788	142,679

In the total number proceeded against in 1865–6 there is an increase of 22,856, or almost 5 per cent., as compared with the number for the preceding year, following an increase of 18,001, or upwards of 4 per cent. in the number for 1864–5, upon the number for 1863–4, of 19,050, or 4·5 per cent. in the number for 1863–4 upon the number for 1862–3, and of 12,855, or 3·5 per cent. in 1862–3 upon the number for 1861–2. As compared with the number in 1859-60, the number in 1865–6 shows an increase of 96,852, or 25·1 per cent. In the number convicted in 1865–6 there is an increase of 26,209, or 8·3 per cent., upon the number in the preceding year. The convictions in 1865–66 were in the proportion of 70·3 per cent. to the total number proceeded against. In each of the two preceding years this proportion was 68·2 per cent.; in 1862–3 it was 67·2 per cent; in each of the years 1861–2 and 1860–1, 66·7 per cent; in 1859–60, 66·4 per cent.; in 1858–9, 63·6 per cent. The proportion of the males proceeded against to the total number proceeded against in 1865–6, is 81·6 per cent., the proportion of the females being consequently 18·4 per cent. In the preceding year these proportions were respectively 80·7 and 19·3 per cent. The proportion of the males convicted to the total number convicted is 84·5 per cent.; of the females 15·5 per cent.; in the preceding years these proportions were 83·8 and 16·2 per cent respectively. The proportion of the males convicted to the total number of males proceeded against is 72·8 per cent.; the proportion of the females 59·6 per cent. In the preceding year these proportions were respectively 70·7 and 57·2 per cent., the relative proportions for the two years varying only by 0·3 per cent. while the disparity in the proportion of the convictions to the number proceeded against, with respect to the sexes, which has been remarked in previous years, is still apparent.

Punishments adjudged.

The penalties imposed upon those convicted, stated under the same classification as in preceding years, were as follows :—

Imprisonment above 6 months	60
„ 6 months and above 3 months	2,571
„ 3 months and above 2 months	6,736
„ 2 months and above 1 month	10,323
„ 1 month and above 14 days	21,648
„ 14 days and under	29,290
„ in reformatory schools	1,131
„ in industrial schools	471
Total committed		72,230
Fined		219,206
Whipped		596
Ordered to find sureties or to enter into recognizance		12,927
Delivered up to the Army or Navy		1,801
Total convicted		339,091

The numbers committed, inclusive of those sent to Reformatories and Industrial Schools, are 21·3 per cent. of the total number convicted. In the preceding year the proportion was 23·5 per cent. Under all the longer periods the proportion of those committed in 1865–6 is lower than in the preceding year. The proportion of those fined was 64·6 per cent. of the total number convicted, in 1865–6; 62·4 per cent. in 1864–5.

Principal offences summarily determined.

The number of persons proceeded against in 1865–6 for the principal offences summarily dealt with by the Justices is shown in the following extracts from the Tables, under the same classification of offences as given in former years.

As compared with the preceding year, with considerable variation in the numbers under the different offences in this class, the total shows a decrease of 1,490, or 3·3 per cent.

Larcenies by offenders under 16 years of age, it may be repeated, have been subject to summary jurisdiction since 1847; the other larcenies since 1855, and the remaining offences since 1827.

In comparison with the numbers for the preceding year there is an increase in the numbers for 1865–6, under each head, excepting the third, under which there is a decrease of 3 cases. The increase amounts under the first head to 286, or 3·1 per cent.; under the second to 83, or 14·9 per cent., and under the fourth to 74, or 9·3 per cent. In the total number the increase is 439, or 4·2 per cent.

Police and Constabulary.

Appeals against Justices' Convictions, (Table, p. 37.)

The number of appeals to Quarter Sessions against decisions of Justices in summary proceedings in the year 1866 was 91, the same as in the preceding year. Of these, 53 were affirmed, and 38 were quashed in 1866, against 57 and 34 respectively in 1865.

Of the appeals in 1866, 25 were in cases of bastardy orders, of which 13 were affirmed and 12 quashed. Deducting these there remain 66 appeals in other matters, of which 40 were affirmed, and 26 quashed. In 1865, the appeals in other cases than bastardy orders were 50, of which 26 were affirmed and 24 quashed.

The summary convictions in 1866, exclusive of those in cases of bastardy orders, were 336,590. There was, therefore, one appeal for every 5,099, and one reversal of the judgment for every 12,945 of the convictions. In the preceding year there was one appeal for every 6,178, and one reversal of the judgment for every 12,872 of the convictions. In 1864 there was one appeal for every 4,367, and one reversal of the judgment for every 7,615 of the convictions.

There were further in 1866, 69 cases stated for the opinion of the Superior Courts of Common Law, under the Statute of the 20th and 21st Vict. c. 43. Of these cases 55 were removed into the Court of Queen's Bench; 41 were argued, and in 39 judgment was given; 10 were to the Court of Common Pleas, in 3 of which the judgment was affirmed, and in 7 reversed, and 4 were to the Court of Exchequer, in all of which the judgment was reversed. In 1865 there were 50 of these cases, of which 34 were submitted to the Court of Queen's Bench, 13 to the Court of Common Pleas, and 3 to the Court of Exchequer.

Coroners' Returns, (pp. 38–42.)

From the coroners of the Soken Division of Essex, and of the Norman Cross District of Huntingdonshire, and for the Christchurch Division of Hants for four months, the coroner having died, no return of inquests has been received for the year 1866. By all the other coroners in England and Wales returns have been made in the usual form, distinguishing, in the case of children of seven years of age and under, those of legitimate from those of illegitimate birth.

The number of the verdicts of murder which were in the cases of infants of one year and under is shown in the Returns for the past, as for each of the three preceding years. The number of these cases in 1866 was 166, against 175 in 1865, 203 in 1864, and 166 in 1863.

Verdicts.

The following were the inquests held during the year, distinguished under the different verdicts:

Verdict.	Males.	Females.	Total.
Murder	139	133	272
Manslaughter	169	54	223
Justifiable homicide	5	—	5
Suicide or self-murder	973	387	1,360
Accidental death	8,882	2,380	11,262
Injuries, causes unknown	145	80	225
Found dead	1,832	865	2,697
Natural death :—
From excessive drinking	243	130	373
Disease aggravated by neglect	43	38	81
Want, cold, exposure, &c.	123	77	200
Other causes	4,942	3,286	8,228
Total	17,496	7,430	24,926

The number of verdicts of murder, it will be observed, very considerably exceeds the number of murders reported by the police. This apparent discrepancy, which is found year by year in the Returns, is to be accounted for by the fact that frequently in cases of supposed infanticide where a verdict of murder is given, if the offenders are brought to trial, the result is a conviction for concealment of birth only. The verdict of the coroner's jury remains recorded, and the case is returned by the coroner as one of murder; but in the police reports, made subsequently, such cases are classed in accordance with the finding at the trial. A few cases may also occur under similar circumstances with regard to manslaughter; and these cases together are sufficient to account for the difference referred to. It must also be observed that the periods embraced in the Returns are not identical, the police returns being for the twelve months ending 29 September; the coroners for the year proper, to the 31st December.

In the total number of inquests in 1866 there is a decrease of 85, 70 on males and 15 on females, as compared with the number in the preceding year. The verdicts of murder show an increase of 45, or 19·8 per cent., the increase being 15 with respect to the males, and 30 with respect to the females. In the verdicts of manslaughter there is a decrease of 59, or 20·9 per cent., 51 or 23·2 per cent., with respect to the males, and 8, or 12·7 per cent., with respect to the females. In the verdicts of suicide also there is a decrease of 37, or 2·6 per cent. in the total number, the decrease in the verdicts on males amounting to 55, or 5·3 per cent, with an increase in those upon females, of 18, or nearly five per cent.

Under natural death, as compared with the numbers for 1865, there is a decrease, in 1866, of 12, in the verdicts "from excessive drinking"; of 28, under "disease aggravated by neglect" and of 17, under "want, cold, &c."; the increase which appears in the total number being under the head "other causes."

The following are the total numbers under each verdict for each of the last four years, with the average of the seven preceding years:

	1866.	1865.	1864.	1863.	Average 1856–62.

Total	24,926	25,011	24,787	22,757	20,955

The classified sexes and ages of the persons on whom inquests were held in 1866, are shown in the following Table, the inquests on males being in the proportion of 70·18 per cent. to the total number, against 70·23 per cent. in the preceding year, and 69·3 per cent. in 1864.

	Males.	Females.	Males.	Females.	Total.

Of the total number of inquests 27·5 per cent. were upon infants of seven years of age, and under; (of these 19·4 per cent. were illegitimate, against 20·4, and 18·5 per cent. in 1865 and 1864, respectively), 7·4 per cent. were upon children under 16 and above seven years of age; 47·1 per cent. were upon adults of 16 and under 60; 16·6 per cent. were upon aged and infirm persons of 60 years and upwards; and 1·4 per cent. upon persons whose ages were unknown.

Police and Constabulary.

In the preceding year these proportions were respectively 27·4, 7·2, 47·4, 16·6, and 1·4 per cent.; in 1864, they were 27·9, 7·5, 46·0,17·3, and 1·3 per cent:—so little variation occurs in the three years.

Costs.

The total costs, including the Coroners' salaries and travelling allowances, as shown in the returns for each year to which they extend, were as follows, with the average cost of each inquest calculated on the total expenses for each year:—

	Total Cost.			Average.

CRIMINAL PROCEEDINGS.

Criminal Proceedings, 1866, (Table, pp. 45–54.)

The number of Persons for trial in 1866 was less than the number for any of the four preceding years. As compared with the number for 1865 there is a decrease of 765, or 3·9 per cent.

The following are the numbers for each of the last 20 years, showing a decrease in the number for 1866 of 9,984, or 34·6 per cent., as compared with the number for 1847, of 10,510 or 35·8 per cent. as compared with the number for 1854 and of 11,500, or 37·8 per cent., as compared with the number for 1848; but these dates are previous to the passing of the Criminal Justice Act, the effect of which was to cause so great a decrease in the number of cases for Trial at Assizes and Sessions.

For attempts to murder there is an increase of two, or in the porportion of 8·3 per cent., there having been a decrease in the commitments for this crime in each of the two preceding years, of 10, or 29·4, and of 20, or 37·0 per cent. respectively. The commitments, for assaults show a decrease under each of the three classes, of assaults and inflicting bodily harm, common assaults, and assaults on peace officers in the execution of their duty. With regard to the first the decrease is 22, or 3·3 per cent., with regard to the second 58, or 22·1 per cent., and with regard to the last 109, or 38·3 per cent. In the total number of assaults the decrease is 189, or 15·6 per cent., following a decrease of 112, or 8·4 per cent. in the number in 1865, as compared with the number for 1864.

The total number of sentences to penal servitude is in the same proportion, viz. 14·1 per cent., to the total number convicted in 1866, as in the preceding year.

In 1856, the year previous to the passing of the Act for the abolition of transportation, the sentences to transportation and to penal servitude, taken together, were in the proportion of 16·5 per cent. to the total number convicted.

As compared with the preceding year, the decrease in 1866, in the number of sentences for life and for periods above ten years, is considerable. Thirty years previously, in 1837, the number sentenced to transportation for life alone, was 636; in 1834 it was 864.

To the foregoing number of sentences to penal servitude for life may be added 13 capital sentences commuted. In each of the years 1865 and 1863 there were seven capital sentences commuted to penal servitude for life. In 1864 there were 12 commuted to penal servitude for life and one (in the case of a female) for 20 years.

The following Table shows the crimes for which the capital convictions have taken place in each of the last 10 years.

Criminal Appeals. (Table, p. 55.)

The Crown cases reserved for the consideration of the Court of Criminal Appeal during the year 1866 are shown in a Return, prepared in the usual form by the clerk of the Court, stating the names of the persons charged, the Courts which certified the cases for reconsideration, the offences charged, and the judgment of the Court in each case.

This Court, constituted under the statute 11 and 12 Vict. c. 78, is composed of five Judges of the Superior Courts, one of whom must be one of the Chief Justices, and is empowered to revise, affirm, or amend the judgments of the Courts in which the cases are tried, on questions of law arising on convictions in the Criminal Courts of Assize and Quarter Sessions and the Central Criminal Court.

Eighteen cases were submitted for the decision of the Court in 1866 (one standing over from the preceding year), being one less than in 1865.

In 10 of the cases the conviction was affirmed, and in 6 reversed. Of these cases five were from Courts of Assize, in three of which the convictions were affirmed, and in two reversed; four were from County Courts of Quarter Sessions, in three of which the convictions were affirmed, and in one reversed; ; and eight were from Borough Courts of Quarter Sessions, in four of which the convictions were affirmed, and in three reversed, and in one the judgment was that the Court had no jurisdiction to hear and determine the case.

PRISONS.

Under the head of prisons the usual information is given for the year ended the 29th September 1866, with regard to the local prisons, the reformatories and the industrial schools, and with regard to the criminal lunatics under detention in the different county and other asylums; and also with respect to the Government Convict Establishments for the year ended 31st March 1867, in continuation of the information given for the preceding year. Prisons, &c.

The names of the same prisons will be found in the Tables for 1865–6, as for the preceding year; but the prison at Falmouth having been abolished on the 1st January 1866, and the prisons named in the Schedule to the Prison Act of 1865, discontinued from the 1st February, and the prisoners removed therefrom, the Returns relating to those prisons have reference only to the period from the 29th September 1865, to the 1st January and 1st February 1866, respectively.

The arrangement of the Tables is the same for 1865–6 as for the preceding year.

The following were the commitments of each description during the year, the sexes being distinguished, with the proportions per cent. of the numbers under each class of commitments, to the totals. Commitments, (Table, p. 61.)

Commitments.	Males.	Females.	Total.	Proportion per Cent.
				Males to total Males.	Females to total Females.	Males and Females to total Committals.
Remanded and discharged	7,899	2,617	10,516	7·6	7·8	7·7
For trial at assizes and sessions	13,413	3,727	17,140	13·0	11·2	12·5
Convicted at assizes and sessions (not previously in custody)	1,200	321	1,521	1·2	1·0	1·1
Convicted summarily	66,866	25,397	92,263	64·7	76·1	67·5
Want of sureties	2,042	809	2,851	2·0	2·4	2·1
Debtors and on civil process	10,097	501	10,598	9·7	1·5	7·7
Military and Naval offences	1,852	—	1,852	1·8	—	1·4
Total	103,369	33,372	136,741	100·0	100·0	100·0

In the total number committed there is a decrease of 680, as compared with the number for 1864–5, following a decrease of 1,865 in the number for the last mentioned year, as compared with the number for 1863–4.

The number of males committed in 1865–6 shows a decrease of 1,204 as compared with the number for the preceding year. In the number of females there is an increase of 524, the number of females committed in 1864–5 having been less by 2,065 than the number in 1863–4.

Prisons.

The number of those remanded and discharged shows an increase of 149 upon the number in 1864–5. In the number for trial there is a decrease of 813, or 4·5 per cent. In the number committed after conviction on trial, not having been previously in custody, there is a decrease of 459, or 23·1 per cent. In the number on summary conviction there is a decrease of 402. In the number committed for want of sureties there is a decrease of 222, or 7·2 per cent. The number committed for debt and on civil process shows an increase of 1,155, or 12·2 per cent. In the number for naval and military offences there is a decrease of 88, or 4·5 per cent.

In the police returns the number of offenders sentenced to imprisonment on summary conviction by the magistrates for the year ending 29th September 1866 is shown to have been 72,230. There is therefore an excess in the number of commitments of those convicted summarily, as stated in the prison returns and shown above, amounting to 20,033. The difference, which is found in this respect in every year, between the police and prison returns, is to be accounted for as follows. The police returns give the number sentenced to imprisonment; but of the large number sentenced to be fined, amounting, in 1865–6, to 219,206, as shown in the police returns, many are sent to prison in default of payment of the fine, and these are included in the prison returns, along with those sentenced to imprisonment, under the heading "convicted summarily."

The following are the commitments as shown in the Tables for each of the last five years, with the totals for those years, and for the preceding period of five years.

Previous Commitments, (Table, p. 61.)

In the number of recommitted prisoners there is an increase of 417, as compared with the number for the preceding year: 35 in the number of males, 382 in the number of females. The proportion of the recommitted to the total number committed (exclusive of debtors and naval and military offenders and those remanded and discharged) is 39·0 per cent., against 38·0 per cent. in the preceding year.

The recommitted males were 36·4 per cent. of the total number of males committed; the recommitted females 46·1 per cent. of the total number of females committed. In the preceding year the proportions were, with respect to the males 35·3 per cent., with respect to the females 47·3 per cent.

The following are the classified numbers of the previous commitments, with the proportion per cent. of each number to the total recommitted, for each sex, the proportions varying only in a very slight degree from those for the preceding year.

Previous Commitments.	Males.	Females.	Total.	Proportion per Cent.
				Males to total Males.	Females to total Females.
Once	13,557	4,340	17,897	44·6	31·2

Total	30,424	13,957	44,381	100·	100·

The result of the column, introduced for the first time in 1864–5, showing the number of the recommitted prisoners who, on a previous conviction, have been sentenced to penal servitude, is that, in 1865–6, 1,493 (1,178 males, and 315 females) were under these circumstances. In the preceding year the number was 1,450 (1,146 males and 304 females). The proportion borne by these numbers to the total numbers recommitted, viz. 3·3 per cent. is the same for each year.

Ages of those committed, (Table, p. 64.)

The classified ages of the total number committed, exclusive of debtors and naval and military prisoners, are shown in the following Table, with the proportion per cent. of the number of males of each age to the total number of males, and of the number of females of each age to the total number of females, the proportionate numbers varying in a very slight degree from those for the preceding year.

The following are the numbers of those under 12 years of age, and of those of 12 and under 16, committed in each of the last six years, with the average of the numbers for the five preceding years. The highest total number was 13,981 in 1856; the lowest, 8,029 in 1860.

	1866.	1865.	1864.	1863.	1862.	1861.	Average. 1856–60.

Total -	9,356	9,640	8,857	8,459	8,349	8,801	10,750

From the foregoing it appears that in the total number of those under 16 years of age committed in 1865–6 there is a decrease of 284, or almost 3·0 per cent., as compared with the number for the preceding year. The proportion which these totals bear to the total number committed is 7·5 per cent. in 1865–6, and 7·6 per cent. in 1864–5.

Birth-place of those committed, (Table, p. 64.)

The numbers and proportion per cent. to the total commitments of each sex (exclusive of debtors, &c.) of those born in England, Wales, Scotland, and Ireland, the colonies, and foreign countries, are shown in the following abstract. As compared with the preceding year, there is a trifling decrease (0·7 per cent.) in the proportionate number of those born in England, and in those born in Ireland (0·2 per cent.) with an increase (0·2 per cent.) in regard to those born in Wales. With regard to Scotland, the Colonies, and Foreign Countries, the proportionate numbers remain the same; of a larger proportionate number the place of birth remained not ascertained in 1865–6.

State of Instruction, (Table, p. 67.)

The degree of instruction of those committed during the year, (with the exception of debtors and of those committed for military and naval offences,) is shown in the following abstract, the sexes being distinguished, with the proportion per cent. of the males under each degree of instruction to the total number of males, and of the females to the total number of females.

Degree of Instruction.	Males.	Females.	Total.	Proportion per Cent.

The total number of those who could neither read nor write is 34·3 per cent. of the total number committed; in the preceding year this proportion was 35·6 per cent. Those who could read or read and write imperfectly, were 61·8 per cent. of the total number committed; in the preceding year this proportion was 60·3 per cent. Of those who could read and write well the proportion was 3·0 per cent., against 3·2 per cent. in the preceding year. Of those of superior instruction the proportion was 0·1 per cent., the same as in each of the two preceding years, the proportion of those whose state of instruction was not ascertained being 0·8 per cent. in each year.

Occupations, (Table, p. 67.)

The occupations of those committed during the year are shown in the Table under the following classification, the numbers under each class of occupation with the proportion per cent. of the males to the total number of males, and of the females to the total number of females, being as follows.

The first three Tables, from which the forgoing are abstracts, relate to the prisoners committed during the year; the remaining Tables relate to the whole number of prisoners under confinement in the different local prisons during the year and their disposal; the capacity state and management of the prisons; the expenses and the funds upon which the costs are charged.

The total number remaining in prison at the end of the year, that is, on the 29th September 1866, shows a decrease of 981, or 5·3 per cent., as compared with the number at the commencement of the year. In the number of debtors remaining there is an increase of 81, or 16·3 per cent. The decrease is therefore entirely in the number of criminals and amounts to 1,062, or 5·5 per cent.

Number of separate cells, (Table, p. 73.)

The total number of cells in the Local Prisons, as shown in the Returns for the past year is as follows.

Separate Sleeping Cells.			Certified Cells.
Males.	Females.	Total.	Males.	Females.	Total.

Certified Punishment Cells.

Males.	Females.	Total.
291	139	430

In the number of separate sleeping cells there is an increase of 628 as compared with the number shown in the Returns for the preceding year. In the number of certified cells there is an increase of 228.

The greatest number of prisoners under confinement at one time, and the daily average, were as follows :—

Greatest Number at One Time.			Daily Average.
Males.	Females.	Total.	Males.	Females.	Total.
17,293	4,735	22,028	14,068	3,781	17,849

The number of prisoners under confinement at the commencement of the year, and the number committed during the year, taken together, viz. 155,254, were less for 1865–6 than the corresponding numbers for the preceding year by 297. The greatest number under confinement at one time was less by 372; the daily average was less by 312.

The number of prisoners sentenced to hard labour, and the number of hard labour sentences undergone during the year in the different prisons is shown in the Table.

Number sentenced to hard labour, (Table, p. 73.)

Under the Prisons Act 1865 hard labour is to be of the first and of the second class, males only being subjected to the former. Hard labour for the first class consists of work at the treadwheel, shot drill, crank, capstan, stone-breaking, or such other like description of hard bodily labour as may be appointed by the Justices with the approval of the Secretary of State; hard labour of the second class, of such other description of bodily labour as may be in like manner appointed. The total number of prisoners sentenced to hard labour was 82,029,—62,163 males, and 19,866 females. the number of sentences undergone was as follows, as stated in the Returns from the different prisons:—

	Males.	Females.	Total.
Hard labour of the first class -	32,134	——	32,134
„ of the second class -	14,711	14,822	29,603
	46,845	14,892	61,737

It is apparent, both with regard to the cells and to the number of hard labour sentences undergone, that the alterations and arrangements necessary for giving full effect to the provisions of the Act of 1865 had not been completed in all the prisons up to the date of the Returns.

Sanitary state of the prisons, (Table, p. 73.)

The number of deaths and the cases of sickness in each prison are shown in the Table. The following are the total numbers for 1865-6, with the average of the numbers for each of the two periods of five years immediately preceding:—

Cases of Sickness and Death.	1866.			Average of 5 Years.
	Males.	Females.	Total.	1866–62.	1861–57.

Insanity - - -	100	48	148	145	141
Greatest number of sick at one time	1,561	494	2,055	1,915	1,921

In the deaths there is an increase of 12 in the number among the males, with a decrease of five in the number among the females, leaving an increase of seven in the total number as compared with the total for the preceding year. In the infirmary cases of sickness there is an increase of 1,137, or 27·6 per cent. upon the number for the preceding year. In the cases of slight indisposition there is an increase of 5,673, or 8·9 per cent. The cases of insanity also show an increase of ten.

The deaths were in the proportion of 1 in 646·2 of the number of prisoners under detention during the year. Among the males the proportion was 1 in 597, among the females, 1 in 873·3. In the preceding year the proportion, with regard to the total number, was 1 in 666; in 1863–4, it was 1 in 659·1; in 1862–3, 1 in 746·6; in 1861–2, 1 in 841·1; in 1860–1, 1 in 822·7. In the past year, the infirmary cases were 1 in 30·4; in the preceding year they were 1 in 34·7. The cases of slight indisposition were 1 in 2·3; in the preceding year they were 1 in 2·5. The cases of insanity were 1 in 1,078·5; in the preceding year they were 1 in 1,158·4; in 1863–4, they were 1 in 1,129·9; in 1862–3, 1 in 1,223·7; in 1861–2, 1 in 999·8; in 1860–1, 1 in 1,167·8; in 1859–60, 1 in 896·9.

Prison Punishments, (Table, p. 73.)

The number of punishments of each description for offences committed in prison was as follows for the whole of the prisons :—

CONVICT PRISONS, (Tables, pp. 88–9.)

The Returns made under the direction of the Chairman of the Directors of Convict Prisons are for the year ending the 31st of March 1867, and afford similar information for that period to that given for the preceding twelve months in the Statistics of 1866, with regard to the convict prisons.

The purposes to which the prisons are respectively appropriated continue unchanged, Pentonville and Millbank being for the imprisonment of convicts in separate confinement under the first stage of discipline, the former being for male convicts only, the latter for both males and females ; Chatham, Portland, and Portsmouth for the convicts employed on public works, undergoing the second stage of discipline ; Dartmoor and Woking for invalids ; and Brixton, Fulham, and Parkhurst for females after they have undergone the first stage of discipline. The Broadmoor asylum being now completed, the convicts who were employed there upon the works have been removed to the public works prisons, or discharged, and lunatic prisoners alone remain.

The juvenile convicts heretofore detained at Parkhurst having been discharged, or transferred to Pentonville, or distributed among the public works prisons on attaining the age, and the number of convicts under 16 years of age now sentenced to penal servitude, if any, not being so numerous as to require a separate establishment, Parkhurst is given up entirely to females ; and sufficient accommodation being fonnd in the Government prisons for the whole of the convicts under sentence of penal servitude detained at home, the use of the cells hitherto rented by the Government in certain of the local prisons has been discontinued.

The following abstract from the Returns for 1866–7, shows the number of convicts under confinement during the year, their disposal, the number remaining at the end of the year, and the daily average.

It is to be remarked that the number of females remaining at the close of the year 1865–6 was stated in the return for Fulham prison as 79, in error for 81.

In the total number given above as received from county and borough prisons, as compared with the number for the preceding year, there is a decrease of 118, or 3·7 per cent., the decrease in the number of males being 133, or 4·8 per cent. of the number of males, with an increase of 15 or 4·2 per cent. of the number of females. In these numbers are included, with regard to the males, convicts received from Gibraltar and convicts who had been received into County and Borough prisons in which cells were rented by the Government, and with regard both to males and females, convicts whose licences have been revoked.

The number removed to the Colonies is less than the number for the preceding year by 435, or 51·5 per cent. The numbers removed to county gaols, schools, or reformatories, or refuges, in 1865–6, were respectively 4, 75, and 12. In the number discharged in 1866–7, on termination of sentence, there is an increase of 44, as compared with the number in the preceding year. In the number discharged on tickets of leave there is a decrease of 460, or 20·4 per cent., the decrease being, with regard to the males 328, or 17·5 per cent. of the males, and with regard to the females 132, or 34·1 per cent. of the females. In 1865–6, 5 were discharged on medical grounds, 2 on commutation of sentence, and 13 on pardon, 2 committed suicide, and one escaped. The number of deaths in 1866–7 shows a decrease of 11, 13 among the males, with an increase of two among the females.

In the total number remaining in custody at the end of the year, there is an increase of 192, or 2·8 per cent., the increase in the number of males amounting to 307, or 5·3 per cent. of the males, with a decrease of 115 in the number of females, or 10·4 per cent. of the females. The daily average was less by 49 with respect to the males, by 233 with respect to the females, or 19·2 per cent. of the females, and by 279, or 3·9 per cent. with respect to the total number.

REFORMATORY SCHOOLS, (Tables, pp. 92–3.)

By an Act passed in the Session of 1866 (29th and 30th Vict. c. 117,) the Acts relating to reformatory schools have been consolidated and amended. Pursuant to this Act the period of previous imprisonment for which an offender must be sentenced before being sent to a reformatory is "ten days or a longer term." Under the former Acts the previous imprisonment required was for fourteen days at the least.

In the Table for 1865–6 the names of the same reformatory schools will be found as for the preceding year. The West Riding refuge for girls at Wakefield has however ceased to receive committed children, and those which remained in the school at the close of the year 1864–5 have since been removed.

The age at the time of commitment, whether on indictment or in a summary manner, of offenders who may be sentenced to be sent to reformatory schools after imprisonment is limited to under 16 years; and the period of detention in the reformatory to not less than two years or more than five.

The number of offenders committed to reformatories in the year ended the 29th September 1866 was 1,287, exceeding the number for the preceding year by 102, or 8·6 per cent., and raising the total number of commitments to reformatories since the passing of the Act of the 17th and 18th Vict. c. 86, to 11,411; 9,314 males, and 2,097 females.

Terms of Detention.

The following were the terms of detention of the 1,287 offenders committed in 1865–6:—

Reformatory Schools.

Previous imprisonment—		Subsequent detention in reformatory—
14 days	559	2 years	43
1 month and above 14 days	594	3 years and above 2 years	301
2 months and above 1 month	103	4 years and above 3 years	239
4 months and above 2	28	5 years and above 4 years	704

Of the total number, 249, or 19·4 per cent., were committed after conviction on indictment; 1,038, or 80·5 per cent., upon summary conviction. The proportions in the preceding year were 22·0 per cent. on indictment; 78·0 per cent. on summary conviction. In 1865–6, 84·5 per cent. of the whole number were committed for larcenies and attempts to steal; 4·3 per cent. for housebreaking, shopbreaking, and burglary; these proportions having been in the preceding year 86·5 per cent. for larcenies, &c., and 4·5 per cent. for housebreaking, &c.; the remaining commitments in each year were for various offences, including unlawful possession of goods, 2·7 per cent. in 1865–6, fraudulent offences (2·1 per cent. in 1865–6), embezzlement, horse stealing, sheep stealing, arson, and wilful burning, wilful damage and other malicious offences, assaults, forgery, vagrancy (2·2 per cent. in 1865–6), &c.

In the number discharged on licence there is an increase of 68 as compared with the number in the preceding year; the number discharged on completion of the term of detention is less by 70; there is a decrease of five in the number absconded and not re-taken, and of two in the number committed to prison; the number of deaths was less by 18. In the number remaining under detention at the close of the year there is an increase of 247, or 7·2 per cent. The increase in the number of males amounts to 7·9 per cent.; in the number of females to 4·7 per cent.

Reformatory Schools.

Of the total number committed to the reformatories during the year it appears from the foregoing table that 47·6 per cent. had been previously more or less frequently committed to prison, leaving 52·4 per cent. as the proportion of those who were sent to reformatories on their first conviction. In the preceding year these proportions were respectively 52·9 per cent., and 47·1 per cent., in 1863–4 they were 52·8 and 47·2 per cent., in 1862–3, 47·8 and 52·2 per cent. Of those who had been previously in prison, 5·1 per cent. were 10 years of age or under; 6·9 per cent., were 11 or above 10; 13·4 per cent. were 12 or above 11; 16·8 per cent. were 13, or above 12; 22·3 per cent. were 14, or above 13; 27·2 per cent. were 15, or above 14; and 8·3 per cent. were 16, or above 15. Of those who had not been previously in prison, 7·9 per cent. were 10 years of age or under; 8·0 per cent. were 11 or above 10; 15·6 per cent. were 12 or above 11; 22·2 per cent. were 13 or above 12; 23 per cent. were 14 or above 13; 20·9 per cent. were 15 or above 14; and 4·4 per cent. were 16 or above 15.

The following table shows the ages and state of instruction, when received into the reformatories, of those committed in 1865–6:

	Aged 10 and under.	11.	12.	13.	14.	15.	16.
Neither read nor write:
Males	46	44	95	99	115	96	26
Females	7	7	17	16	29	32	6
Read or read and write imperfectly:
Males	25	37	54	77	95	132	27
Females	5	4	14	26	34	30	8
Read and write well:
Males	1	4	4	17	15	12	9
Females	—	—	2	3	2	6	5
Superior instruction	—	—	1	1	—	—	—
Instruction not ascertained	—	—	—	—	2	—	—

From the foregoing it will be seen that of the males committed during the year 50·4 per cent. could neither read nor write; 43·2 per cent. could read or read and write imperfectly; and 6·0 per cent. could read and write well; two being of superior instruction; and the degree of instruction of two not being ascertained. Of the females 45·1 per cent. could neither read nor write; 47·8 per cent. could read or read and write imperfectly; and 7·1 per cent. could read and write well.

In the preceding year the proportions were with regard to the males 49·8, 39·9, and 10·3 per cent.; and with regard to the females 43·9, 47·1, and 9·0 per cent.

Costs.

The amount payable by Her Majesty's Treasury on account of the reformatory schools for the year was 51,734*l.* 6*s.* 1*d.*, exceeding the amount for the preceding year by 3,428*l.* 11*s.* 0*d.* or upwards of 7 per cent. The amount recovered from parents was 2,602*l.* 1*s.* 9*d.*, exceeding the amount recovered in the preceding year by 283*l.* 15*s.* 2*d.*, or 12·2 per cent.

Middlesex Industrial School

In addition to three Reformatory Schools, and several Industrial Schools certified by the Secretary of State, the descriptions of which are given in the tables (pp. 92. & 94.) in the lists of Reformatory and Industrial Schools respectively, there is in the County of Middlesex the Industrial School at Feltham, which is provided under a local statute of the 17 & 18 Vict., for juvenile offenders convicted summarily or otherwise of offences committed by them within the County when above the age of seven years and under 14, such offenders being liable to be sentenced to not less than one year, or exceeding three years' detention in the school without the previous committal to prison which is required in the case of offenders sent to Reformatory Schools.

The expenses of this school are defrayed from the County rate, justices being at the same time empowered to order payment not exceeding three shillings per head per week to be made by parents or guardians, where of sufficient ability.

During the year ended 29th September 1866, 208 commitments were made to this school, of which 30, or 14·4 per cent. were after trial on indictment, and 178, or Middlesex Industrial Schools.

85·6 per cent., on summary conviction. For the year 1864–5 the commitments were 216, of which 27, or 12·5 per cent., were after trial,and 189, or 87·5 per cent., on summary conviction. The average number of commitments for the five preceding years was 192. Of the 208 committals in 1865–6–6,206 were for the full period of three years, two only having been for two years or under. 157, or 75·4 per cent., of the commitments were for larcenies; 27, or 13·0 per cent., for vagrancy; the remainder for various offences. In the preceding year 67·1 per cent. of the commitments were for larceny, and 19· 0 per cent. for vagrancy.

Of those committed in 1865–6, 15, or 7·2 per cent. were of the age of 10 years or under; 17, or 8·2 per cent. were 11, or above 10; 37, or 17·8 per cent., 12, or above 11; 41, or 19·7 per cent. 13, or above 12; and 98, or 47·1 per cent., 14 or above 13; 127 or 61·0 per cent., could neither read nor write; 75, or 36·0 per cent., could read or read and write imperfectly; and six only, or 3·0 per cent., could read and write well; 44 had been once previously committed to prison; 5 twice; and four three times; leaving 155, or 74·5 per cent., of the whole, who had never previously been committed.

The number under detention at the commencement of the year, that is on the 30th September 1865, was 556 which, with 208 committed, and one received back from prison, gives 765 as the total under detention during the year. Of these 127 were discharged by order of the Secretary of State, 125 on completion of their terms of detention, and three died, making a total of 255, and leaving 510 as the number under detention at the end of the year, or 46 less than at its commencement.

The cost per head payable by Her Majesty's Treasury was 26*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.*, being an increase of 1*l.* 9*s.* 7*d.* upon the amount for the year 1864–5, the latter year having shown an increase of 1*l.* 17*s.* 2*d.*, as compared with the year preceding it. The amount recovered from parents was 376*l.* 2*s.* 10*d.*, against 401*l.* 1*s.* 9*d.* in 1864–5, and 882*l.* 17*s.* 6*d.* in 1863–4.

Industrial Schools. (Table, p. 94.)

The Acts relating to Industrial Schools also have been consolidated and amended by an Act of the last session of Parliament (c.118). In addition to the 31 Industrial Schools, the names of which appeared in the table for the preceding year, two others will be found, one at Maccclesfield and one at at Bath, in the list for the year ending 29th September 1866, making 33 certified schools in which children committed under the Industrial Schools Acts were under detention at the latter date.

The total number under detention at the commencement of the year, that is on the 30th September 1865, was 1,052, 780 males and 272 females. The numbers remaining under detention at the close of the preceding year were inaccurately stated in the Returns for that year of two of the schools, an apparent discrepancy of two in the number of males being thus occasioned in the tables for the two years. The number committed during the year 1865–6 was 508, 414 males and 94 females, exceeding by upwards of 20 per cent. in the total, the numbers for the preceding year, the number of males having been greater by 91, with four less in the number of females. The number remaining at the close of the year was 1,235, 947 males and 288 females, being an increase of 183, 167 males and 16 females, or upwards of 17 per cent., in the total, on the number at its commencement.

Of the total number under detention during the year five per cent. were under eight years of age at the time of their commitment; 9·2 per cent. were eight and under nine; 15·3 per cent. were nine and under 10; 22·4 per cent. were 10 and under 11; 19·1 per cent. were 11 and under 12; 15·8 per cent. were 12 and under 13; and 13 per cent. were 13 and under 14.

The costs for the children in the year, so far as given in the Returns, was 15,420*l.* 2*s.* 2*d.* For four of the schools the expenses are not stated; but estimating the amount for these at the same proportion to the number of children under detention in them during the year as with regard to the other schools, the cost for the whole 33 schools would be 18,567*l.* 10*s.* 6*d.* The amount shown in the Returns as received of parents is 711*l.* 15*s.* 11*d.*, against 985*l.* 0*s.* 8*d.* in the preceding year; 398*l.* 9*s.* 3*d.* in 1864; 153*l.* 5*s.* 4*d.*, in 1863; and 7*l.* 15*s.* 4*d.* in 1862.

Criminal Lunatics, (Tables pp. 95–6–7.)

The returns relating to Criminal Lunatics also are for the year ending 29th September 1866. These Returns, obtained through the Commissioners in Lunacy, show that during the year 1,178 of this class of prisoners were under detention, of this number 455 were in the Government Asylum at Broadmoor; the remainder were distributed, (the details are given in the Table), between 38 County Asylums, four City or Borough Asylums, the Asylum for the City of London appearing for the first time in the list, and 18 Hospitals and licensed houses. The disposal of the whole number under detention during the year was as follows:

	Males.	Females.	Total.
Under detention at the commencement of the year	795	237	1,032
Received from other asylums	18	16	34
Committed in the year	78	34	112
Total	891	287	1,178
Discharged or removed; viz.:—
Died	58	9	67
Committed suicide	1	1	2
Escaped	2	—	2
On becoming sane	27	14	41
Removed, sane, for trial or punishment	4	1	5
Removed to other asylums	6	3	9
Remaining under detention	793	259	1,052

The number under detention at the commencement of the year, that is, on the 30th September 1865, was greater by 24 than the number at the commencement of the preceding year. The number committed during the year was less by 58, or upwards of 34 per cent. As compared with the number committed in 1863–4, the number for 1865–6 shows a decrease of 85, or upwards of 43 per cent. The deaths were one in 17·5 of the total number under detention; in the preceding year they were one in 20: in 1863–4 they were only one in 31. In the number remaining under detention on the 29th September 1866 there is an increase of 20 upon the number for the preceding year, raising the increase upon the number for 1855–6 (the first year for which the number was shown) to 455.

Offences with which charged, (Table p. 97.)

The offences with which the lunatics under detention were charged are shown in the usual detail in the table; 151, or 12·8 per cent. of the whole were for murder; 11 for concealing birth and infanticide; 142, or 12·4 per cent., for attempts to murder, manslaughter, &c.; 288, or 24·4 per cent., for larceny and petty theft, &c.

Judgments under which detained.

The original judgments or orders under which the lunatics in custody in 1865–6 were detained, with the proportion per cent. which the numbers under each head bear to the whole are as follows:

Judgments or Orders.	Number.	Proportion per. cent. to whole Number.
Found insane	169	14·3
Acquitted insane	200	16·9
Insane, committed by Justices	69	5·8
Dangerous lunatics, committed by Justices	3	0·4
Convicts becoming insane after trial, and removed by order of the Secretary of State	737	62·6
	1,178	100·0

Of the number found insane 49, or 29 per cent., were for murder; 38, or 22·5 per cent., for attempts to murder &c.; of those acquitted as insane 8·7, or 43·5 per cent., were for murder; 54, or 2·7 per cent., were for attempts to murder.

CRIMINAL LUNATICS.

Periods of detention.

The number under each period of detention, and the proportion per cent. borne by each number to the whole, are as follows:—

	Number of Persons.	Proportion per cent. to whole number.
One year and under	154	13·1
Two years and above one	149	12·6
Three years and above two	110	9·3
Five years and above three	194	16·5
Ten years and above five	262	22·2
Fifteen years and above ten	154	13·1
Twenty years and above fifteen	73	6·2

Costs, (Table, p. 96.)

The total costs for the criminal lunatics show a decrease of 4,273*l.* 19*s.* 10*d.*, or nearly 9 per cent. as compared with the amount for the preceding year. In the amount chargeable on the County Rates there is an increase of 741*l.*, or upwards of 16 per cent.; in the amount chargeable on Borough Funds there is a decrease of 302*l.* 12*s.* 4*d.*, or about 23 per cent.; the amount chargeable on parish rates is higher than in the preceding year by 292*l.*, or nearly 6 per cent.; the charges on the Public Revenue and on private funds both show a decrease amounting, with regard to the former, to 4,665*l.* 13*s.* 11*d.*, or nearly 13 per cent., and with regard to the latter to 338*l.* 14*s.* 4*d.*, or about the same proportion.

The following are the amounts chargeable to each of the different funds from which the costs are defrayed, with the total charge for the year, and the proportion per cent. which each amount bears to the total, for the whole number of criminal lunatics:—

County Rates	5,236	12	2	11·7
Borough Rates or Funds	4,013	4	8	2·3
Parish Rates	5,255	6	11	11·6
Public Revenues	31,353	8	2	69·6
Private Funds	2,179	0	1	4·8
Total	45,037	12	0	100·0

Showing that seven tenths of the whole expenditure for criminal lunatics is defrayed from the public revenue.

Cost per head.

In the Broadmoor asylum the cost per head is 56*l.* 7*s.* 0*d.* For the 38 county asylums the average is 23*l.* 5*s.* 10*d.* The highest cost per head in the county asylums is 38*l.* 7*s.* 4*d.* for Lincolnshire, the lowest is 18*l.* 7*s.* 3*d.* for Dorset. For the four city and borough asylums the average is 30*l.* 12*s.* 9*d.*, the highest cost per head being 36*l.* 8*s.* 0*d.* in the City of London Asylum, and the lowest 22*l.* 2*s.* 0*d.* at Birmingham. In the hospitals and licensed houses the cost per head varies between 23*l.* 4*s.* 9*d.* at Northampton, and 531*l.* 16*s.* 0*d.* at Ticehurst. Other instances appear where the costs are 350*l.*, 280*l.*, 220*l.*, 200*l.*, 150*l.*, &c.; but these are cases of single individuals in private houses, where the expenses are defrayed from private funds. For the total number of criminal lunatics the cost per head calculated on the total costs is 38*l.* 4*s.* 7*d.* For 1864–5, it was 37*l.* 7*s.* 3*d.*

COMPRISING

The Superior Courts of Common Law, the County Courts, and other Courts for the Recovery of Small Debts.

The Bankruptcy Courts.

The Courts of Equity, the Court of Probate, the Court of Divorce and Matrimonial Causes, the Admiralty Court, and the Ecclesiastical Courts.

The Judicial Committee of the Privy Council, and the Judicial Proceedings of the House of Lords.

PART II.

INTRODUCTORY AND EXPLANATORY REMARKS.

Returns have been received for 1866, giving the usual information as to the proceedings in the whole of the Courts of Civil Jurisdiction during that year, excepting only as regards the business in the Chambers of the Judges of the Courts of Common Law, with respect to which, in consequence of a change made in the manner of keeping the accounts under the Act of the 28th Vict. c. 45, a difficulty has arisen, and the Returns are incomplete.

Additional information is given under the head of County Courts as to the proceedings in equity in those Courts under the Act of 28 and 29 Vict.,c. 99., and also under the Court of Probate.

An increase will be found in the business of most of the Civil Courts, but especially in that of the Courts of Common Law and the High Court of Admiralty.

Common Law Courts, (Tables pp. 1 to 9.)

In the first Table are shown certain of the proceedings under the peculiar jurisdiction of the Court of Queen's Bench on the Crown side, as given in the Return furnished by the Queen's Coroner and Attorney, and the Master on the Crown side.

The same explanation as to the proceedings on the Crown side, and the nature of the offences tried, which has been given for former years is repeated in the Return for 1866, and the total number of proceedings is stated to be as given in the following abstract for that year, the corresponding numbers for 1865 being shown, with the average of five years, for comparison.

On Special Cases from Quarter Sessions (12 & 13 Vict. c. 45.)	9	13	11
On Special Cases on Proceedings before Justices (20 & 21 Vict. c. 43.)	55	34	47

There were five cases of acquittal and eight of conviction in which judgment was entered up in the Queen's Bench; and one case, that of John Roberts, in which sentence was passed of three months imprisonment in Whitecross Street Prison.

It is not possible, it is stated, to give a correct account of the amount of costs taxed in the Crown Office, inasmuch as the bills of costs are not only often withdrawn from taxation when partly taxed, but when completed are sometimes taken away by the attorneys and not returned to the office.

Fees.

The total amount of fees received in the Crown Office, exclusive of business done for the public departments for which no fees are received, was 572*l.* 6*s.* 5*d.*, which includes all the fees received at the office, not only in respect of the different items specified in the Return, but also for other duties, as writs of subpœnâ ad testificandum,

COMMON LAW COURTS.

copies of proceedings, &c. This amount is less than the amount for the preceding year by 53*l.* 3*s.* 5*d.*, or in the proportion of 8 per cent.

Plea side.

The form of procedure in the three Superior Courts of Common Law being similar on the Plea side, the chief proceedings in each Court, as given in the Returns for 1866, furnished by the Masters, are shown in the following summary. The totals for the three courts of the matters under each heading are given for 1865, and the average of the totals for the five years 1859-63 inclusive.

A great increase in the business of the Courts is apparent. The number of writs of summons issued in 1866 exceeds the number in the preceding year by 14,063, or 11·8 per cent., and this following an increase of 5,939, or 5·2 per cent., in 1865 upon the number in 1864, and of 13,116, or upwards of 13 per cent., in 1864 upon the number in 1863. As compared with 1859, the year in which the number was lowest since the commencement of the Statistics, the increase in 1866 amounts to 46,890, or 54·3 per cent. As compared with the average of the eight years 1858-65, the increase in 1866 is 28,475, or 27·2 per cent. In the other proceedings shown in the summary the increase appears proportionate. In the amount of fees (now collected by stamps), the increase in 1866 upon the amount for the preceding year is 6,971*l.*, or upwards of 9 per cent. As compared with the amount in 1859, the increase in 1866 is 17,119*l.*, or 26·5 per cent.

Bills of costs taxed.

The number of bills of costs taxed in the Court of Queen's Bench in 1866 is stated to have been; between party and party, 7,278, being an increase of 600 upon the number under this head for the preceding year; under the Statute 6 & 7 Vict. c. 73, 487, being less than the number for the preceding year by 1,007; and under the Land Clauses Act, 122. For the Court of Exchequer the number given, exclusive of bills taxed under the Statute, is 3,948, the number for the preceding year having been 10,392, inclusive of 2,107 taxed under the Sheffield Waterworks Act of 1864. For the Court of Common Pleas no Return is given under this head.

In the following Abstract of the Returns furnished by the Associates of the three Superior Courts of Common Law, and of those furnished by the Clerks of Assize and the Clerks of the Crown, is shown for 1866, with regard to the Courts at Westminster, the number of remanets from the preceding year for trial at the commencement of the year, and, both with regard to the Courts at Westminster and on Circuit, the number of causes entered for trial, and the number of trials, the number withdrawn, struck out, &c., and the number of remanets at the end of the year; the totals for the preceding year being also given, and the average of the totals for the years 1859 to 1863 inclusive.

Judgments.

The Returns furnished by the Masters of the three Superior Courts, after stating the number of causes entered for trial, the number of writs of capias, and the number of appearances entered for each quarter of the year, next show the number of judgments, under the different terms, as given in the following summary, in the causes tried at Westminster, and in those on Circuit, without distinction. It rests with the parties for whom verdicts are given at Nisi Prius to make application for the return of the issues into the Courts at Westminster, and in some cases a compromise is made after the verdict, and no further proceedings appear.

The following are the judgments in each Court as shown in the Returns for 1866, with the total numbers for the three Courts in 1865, and the average of the totals for the five years 1859 to 1863 inclusive.

The Returns furnished by the Associates show the result of the causes tried in each of the Courts at Westminster, in each description of suit. The Returns made by the Clerks of Assize, and the Clerks of the Crown for the Counties Palatine, show the results in the causes tried on Circuit. The following summary shows the results of the suits both at Westminster and on Circuit for each of the Courts in 1866, with the total number for 1865, and the average of the totals for 1859 to 1863 inclusive. Amounts recovered.

In the following summary are shown, as abstracted from the Returns made by the Associates and the Clerks of Assizes and Clerks of the Crown, the amounts for which verdicts were obtained in each of the Courts at Westminster and upon Circuit. The total amount recovered is less than the amount shown in the Returns for 1865 by 14,669*l.*, or 2·7 per cent.

Executions.

The Masters' Returns next show the number of executions under the different forms of writs. The following were the numbers in each of the three Courts in 1866, with the totals for the three Courts in 1865, and the average of the totals for the five years 1859 to 1863 inclusive.

COMMON LAW COURTS.

In the total number of writs issued in 1866 there is an increase of 2,585, or 9·4 per cent., as compared with the number in 1865, and of 4,327, or 16·8 per cent., as compared with the average. As compared with the preceding year, the increase in 1866 amounts to 997, or 11·1 per cent., for the Court of Queen's Bench; to 915, or 12·7 per cent., for the Court of Common Pleas; and to 673, or 5·9 per cent., for the Court of Exchequer,

New trials, &c.

The judgments being subject to revision by the Courts sitting in Banco, on motions for new trials, or to enter or alter verdict, or for nonsuit, or arrest of judgment, or non obstante veredicto, the Returns made by the Masters show that there were applications of this nature in each of the Courts, with the following results, in 1866; the number of cases under each decision in the preceding year and the average of five years being stated for comparison.

	1866.				1865.	Average of Totals, 1859–63.

In these proceedings also, it will be seen, a considerable increase has taken place, the increase extending, as with respect to other proceedings, to each of the three Courts.

Issue of the proceedings.

In the number of writs of summons issued in 1866, it has already been shown, there is an increase of 11·8 per cent. on the number for the preceding year: in the number of appearances entered there is an increase of 13·9 per cent.: in the proportion which the number of appearances entered bears to the number of writs of summons issued there is an increase of 0·5 per cent.; this proportion for 1866 is 28·8 per cent., leaving 71·2, against 71·7 per cent. in 1865, as the proportion of the cases commenced in which no proceedings were taken beyond the issue of the writ of summons, with the deduction of those cases in which judgment may have been obtained in default, of which there were 4,482, or one in 8·5 of the number of appearances entered.

Of the number of cases in which appearances were entered 13·1 per cent. only were entered for trial, including as well those for trial on circuit as those at Westminster; of the number entered for trial little more than half (51·1 per cent.) were brought to trial; and of the number of trials nearly one third (31 per cent.) were undefended. The number of trials was less than 2 per cent. of the number of writs of summons issued.

Testing the issue of the proceedings by the judgments obtained, it will appear that the number of writs of summons issued having been 133,160, and the number of judgments obtained 42,316, in 92,845, or 68·2 per cent., no further proceedings beyond the issue of the writ of summons were taken. On this calculation in the preceding year the proportion was 67·7 per cent.

For the enforcement of the judgments 30,053 writs of execution were issued under the different forms shown above, or in the proportion of 71·0 per cent. to the judgments. In the preceding year this proportion was 71·4; in 1864, 69·9; in 1863, 70·4 per cent.

Of the writs in 1866, 68·7 per cent. were to levy on the goods; 28·8 per cent. were against the person; 1·5 for possession after recovery in ejectment.

In 1865 these proportions were respectively 69·7, 28·0, and 1·5 per cent. The remainder of the writs were under the different forms shown above, with little variation in the proportions between the two years, viz., 1·0 per cent. in 1866, and 0·8 per cent. in 1865.

Business in Judges' chambers, (Table, pp. 3, 5, 7.)

Owing to the change made in the manner of keeping the accounts under the Act of the 28th Vict. c. 45 (Common Law Courts (Fees) Act, 1865,) it was found impossible to furnish the information usually given for the Judicial Statistics, for the chambers of the Judges of the Court of Queen's Bench for the year 1866. For the Court of Common Pleas the Returns have been made in the usual form, and for the Court of Exchequer, with the exception of the chambers of the Lord Chief Baron.

Under these circumstances the total chamber business cannot be shown as in former years.

The Returns for each of the chambers received are given in the Tables, and the following abstract shows the total proceedings under each heading, in 1866, for the chambers of the five Judges of the Court of Common Pleas, and of the four Puisne Barons of the Court of Exchequer, with the corresponding totals for all the chambers in 1865 :—

COMMON LAW COURTS.

Revenue business, (Table, p. 7.)

The proceedings at the sittings in Banco of the Court of Exchequer in the year 1866, relating to business on the revenue side of the Court, are shown, as in preceding years, in a Return furnished by the Queen's Remembrancer, and were as follows, viz.: one cause in equity, in which the decree was for the Crown; one petition under the Succession Duty Act, in which case judgment was for the Crown; one motion in Court; 71 motions (without argument) touching legacy and succession duties; and one special case, in which the decision was for the Crown. There were also three occasions on which the oath was administered in lieu of the oaths of allegiance, &c.

On the 9th of November in each year the customary ceremony takes place of the presentation of the Lord Mayor of London to the Barons of the Court of Exchequer; and on the morrow of Saint Martin (12th November), on the assembling of the Council in the Court of Exchequer, the nomination of the Sheriffs for England and Wales takes place.

Court of Error, (Return, p. 9.)

Returns of the proceedings into the Court of Error, Exchequer Chamber, have been made by the Masters of each of the three Superior Courts of Common Law in the same form as the Returns furnished by them for each of the last four years, and show the proceedings from each Court to have been as follows for 1866:—

In the amount of receipts to the Suitors' Fund in 1866, as shown in the statements furnished by the Masters, there is a decrease of 35,740*l.*, or 17·3 per cent., as compared with the amount for 1865. As compared with the amount for 1864, the amount for 1866 shows an increase of 710*l.*

The amount of fees levied in 1866 shows an increase of 6,971*l.*, or 9·3 per cent., on the amount in the preceding year.

The following are the amounts for each of the Courts, showing the receipts and payments and the balances for 1866, with the totals, and the totals for the preceding year:— COMMON LAW COURTS.

Under the Common Law Courts (Fees and Salaries) Act, 1866, (29th and 30th Vict. c. 101) an account is required to be laid before Parliament each year, for the year ending 31st March, showing the total amount of money received in respect of stamps, and the total payments for the same period for salaries, compensations, &c., payable out of fees, with, for the second and each subsequent year, the items for two consecutive years, to show the increase or decrease of any item for the second of those years as compared with the first.

The following summary of the Return under this Act for the year ending the 31st March 1867 shows the total amount of fees received in stamps by the different Officers of the three Superior Courts of Common Law (not including the fees received by the Clerks of Assize and in the Crown Office of the Court of Queen's Bench), with the payments on account of salaries, pensions, and expenses, and for compensations; the corresponding items in the summary of the Returns under the 15th and 16th Vict. c. 73, given in the Statistics of 1865, being added for comparison, with the increase or decrease of the different items in 1866–7.

The cases in which probates or administrations of wills were granted under decrees of County Courts are shown in the Returns furnished by the District Registrars of the Court of Probate.

Jurisdiction in equity.

Under an Act of the 28th and 29th Vict. (c. 99,) jurisdiction in equity is conferred on the County Courts, which under the said Act have all the power and authority of the High Court of Chancery in certain suits and matters when the amount or value does not exceed 500*l.* This Act came into operation on the 1st of October 1865, and Returns obtained in the same manner as the Returns of the other business of the Courts will be found abstracted in the Tables, showing the proceedings under the Equity Jurisdiction in each of the County Court Circuits from the period from the commencement of the Act to the 31st December 1866.

The following are the number of plaints in the whole of the County Courts, and the totals under each heading in the Returns with reference to the recovery of debts for the year 1866, in comparison with the number for the preceding year, and with the average of the five years 1859 to 1863, inclusive :

The number of plaints entered in 1866 shows an increase of 89,831, or 11·4 per cent., upon the number for the preceding year, and of 63,179, or 7·8 per cent., on the average of the five years.

In each of the years 1866 and 1865 there were 15 appeals, the average of the numbers for the three years 1864–3–2, being 12. There were 45 orders to stay proceedings in 1866 against 27 in 1865, the average for the three years being 37. There were 68 cases of certiorari to remove proceedings against 70 in 1865, and an average of 79 for the three years.

The number of days of sitting during the year for the whole of the circuits was 7,894, exceeding the number for the preceding year by 302, or nearly 4 per cent. Calculating on the total number of causes determined, this number gives 62·4 causes for each day of sitting. For 1865 this average was 57·1. The greatest number of days of sitting on any circuit was 267 in No. 6; the lowest, 91 in circuit No. 5.

The highest average number of causes determined on each day of sitting was 222 on circuit No. 13; the lowest was 55 each on circuits Nos. 28 and 49.

The causes determined in Court were in the proportion of 55·9 per cent. to the total number of plaints entered, leaving 44·1 per cent. as the proportion settled out of Court; in 1865 these proportions were 55·4 and 44·6; in 1864, 56·4 and 45·6; in 1863, 55·3 and 44·7 respectively.

Of the judgments given 96·2 per cent. were for the Plaintiff; 1·9 per cent. were nonsuits; and 1·9 per cent. were for the Defendant. In the preceding year these proportions were the same; in 1864, 95·9, 2·1, and 2·2 per cent. The number of debtors imprisoned gives one for 115 of the number of plaints entered. In 1865 this proportion was one in 123; in 1864 one in 113; for the average in the five preceding years, one in 95.

The total amount for which plaints were entered shows an increase of 205,605*l.*, or 11·1 per cent., on the amount for the preceding year, and of 292,331*l.*, or 16·6 per cent., on the amount for 1864. The average for each plaint entered is 2*l.* 7*s.* 0*d.*, against 2*l.* 7*s.* 2*d.* in the preceding year.

The amount of debt for which judgments were obtained was 51·1 per cent. of the total amount for which plaints were entered. In 1865 this proportion was 50·2 per cent.; in 1864, 55·7.

The amount of costs shows an increase of 5,742*l.*, or 15·2 per cent., upon the amount for 1865. The costs are in the proportion of 4·1 per cent. to the amount of debts for which judgments were obtained. In the preceding year this proportion was 4·7 per cent.

In the amount of fees there is an increase of 30,578*l.*, or 11·8 per cent., as compared with the amount for the preceding year. The costs and fees together give an average of 13*s.* 7*d.* for each cause determined, the same as in the preceding year, the amount having been 14*s.* 1*d.* in 1864.

The proportion of the number of causes determined at the different amounts, viz., 40*s.* and under; 5*l.* and above 40*s.*; 10*l.* and above 5*l.*; &c., having been found to vary in a very slight degree from year to year, it has been thought unnecessary to continue to distinguish the number of causes under the different amounts as heretofore, and the columns to show this information are omitted in the Table for the present year.

In 1866 36 warrants were issued for the arrest of absconding debtors, against 53 in the preceding year. In three cases in 1866 bail was given, in eight the debt and costs were paid, and in five the warrants were suspended.

Two matters only were heard under the Charitable Trusts Act in 1866, against three in 1865. Eleven orders were made under this Act in 1866, against three in the preceding year.

In 1866 there were 616 orders registered for the protection of wives deserted by their husbands; in three cases the orders were discharged. In 1865, 470 of these orders were registered, and in seven cases the orders were discharged. The number of orders in the six years 1859–64 gives an average of 597.

Under the new Equity Jurisdiction the total number of suits or proceedings, including plaints entered and petitions or notices filed, in the whole of the County Courts, from the commencement of the Act on the 1st October 1865 to the 31st December 1866, was 809; the total amount of matter in dispute or otherwise was 126,260*l.*; the amount of attorneys' costs allowed was 4,988*l.*; the total amount of fees, including those payable to the Consolidated Fund, to the Registrars, and to the High Bailiffs, was 4,391*l.*; the number of suits or proceedings pending on the 31st December 1866 was 262; there were seven appeals, and four persons were committed for contempt; there were 22 warrants of execution, possession, &c., issued. The details under each heading are given, for each of the County Court Circuits, in the Table.

Equity jurisdiction, (Table, p. 12.)

BOROUGH, HUNDRED, AND MANORIAL COURTS, (Table, p. 13.)

From each of the thirty-three Local Civil Courts of ancient jurisdiction named in the statistics of 1865, returns have been made for 1866, excepting the Egremont Court Baron. For this Court, in consequence of the recent death of the Deputy Steward, delay has occurred, and the return, although promised, not being received in time, the numbers for the preceding year, under each heading in the form, are inserted in the Table. A return also will be found in the Table for the Court of Pleas at Ramsey, which Court has not before been included in the statistics. The number of these Courts is thus raised to 34, in eight of which however no proceedings took place in 1866.

Under proceedings for winding up Companies, which extend to both counties, a continued increase appears, both in the number of proceedings generally and in the amounts affected.

One case only appears under proceedings not in any cause, against one in the preceding year.

Under each head the details, as given in the Return ,will be found stated in the Table.

Within the same period the number of days on which the Court sat has increased from 38 in 1841 to 147 in 1866, the greatest number in any year previous to 1866 having been 118 in 1863. Of causes for 10,000*l.* and upwards, in 1841–2–5 and 1848, there were none; in 1843–4 and 1846, one only; in 1866 there were 24. The total amount of fees of Court, which in 1841 was 2,447*l.*, in 1866 was 11,077*l.*, although the fees have been considerably reduced.

The following Table shows the proceedings in Her Majesty's Court for Divorce and Matrimonial Causes in the year ended the 31st December 1866, as returned by the Chief Registrar, in comparison with the proceedings in 1865, and with the average of the numbers under each head for the five years 1859–63, inclusive :—

Statistics Office, Four Courts, Dublin,

14*th August*, 1867.

My Lord,

I have the honour to transmit, for the information of His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, the Judicial and Criminal Statistics of Ireland for the year 1866, being the fourth year for which the Statistics have been collected and compiled.

In addition to the Police Statistics usually collected, the special table for political offences, used in 1865, has again been collected for 1866.

Forms for recording, as each inquest is held, the necessary details, have been sent to each Coroner; and the Statistics of Inquests are more complete than in preceding years.

The Statistics of Juror Sessions are still imperfect for want of returns from some local officers.

New forms of return have been framed for the Statistics of Lunatics and Insane Persons confined as criminals in asylums, and the statistics under this head are more complete than in preceding years.

A new table has been added to those for the Landed Estates Court, to show the business in the Record of Title Office, founded by Statute 28 and 29 Vic., cap. 88.

The Returns as to the Courts of Chairmen of Counties, and from Clerks of the Peace and Sheriffs, are still incomplete; and in pursuance of your Lordship's directions, the forms of return as to these proceedings, and the causes of their incompleteness, are under special consideration, with a view to have perfect returns for the next volume.

As part of this question, the Statistics of Ejectments, of Processes served, and of Execution of Ejectments being incomplete, new forms of return have been settled, and the results, when compiled for 1866, will be furnished as a supplement to the present volume.

The Statistics of Petty Sessions, hitherto published, had the Criminal and Civil business mixed up together. In the present volume the Civil business has been separated from the Criminal, and has, with the attendance of Justices, been included in the Civil part of the volume amongst the local Courts. The Criminal business at Petty Sessions is returned in Counties and Constabulary districts by the Police, and also dealt with in Counties in the Criminal Proceedings at Assizes and Quarter Sessions, and in Commitments to Gaols and Bridewells. The compilation hitherto given of this portion of the business at Petty Sessions, from the Quarterly Returns made by the Clerks of the Petty Sessions to the Office of the Chief Secretary of the Lord Lieutenant, not being arranged on the same plan or so complete as these statistics, has been omitted.

I have the honour to be,

Your Lordship's obedient servant,

W. Neilson Hancock.

The Right Hon. the Earl of Mayo, M.P.

INTRODUCTORY AND EXPLANATORY REPORT.

CONSTABULARY AND POLICE.

Constabulary and Police.

The Police Establishments in Ireland are of three kinds: the Constabulary of Ireland, the Dublin Metropolitan Police, and the Local Force in Towns.*

Of these forces, the Constabulary of Ireland extends to towns as well as to counties, and thus corresponds to the whole County Police and nearly the whole of the Borough Police Force in England and Wales, and the Police Force in her Majesty's dockyards; but is different from the County and Borough Police Force in England in being entirely under Central Government; the Dublin Metropolitan Police corresponds to the London Metropolitan Police; and the Local Force in Towns corresponds to a small number of the Borough Police Force in England and Wales, and like them is entirely under the government of Local Authorities.

The total number of the Police Force, as shown by the returns, is as follows:— Total Establishments.

—	1866.	1865.	Increase.	Decrease.

Fire Brigade,	66	132	–	66
Grand Total,	13,355	13,327	28	–

There has been a slight increase in the effective strength of the Constabulary of Ireland in 1866 as compared with 1865, from 11,649 to 11,906, or of 257 men, arising from the substitution of the Constabulary for the Local Force in Belfast.

In the Dublin Metropolitan Police there has been a slight decrease of 22.

In the Local Force there has been a large decrease, arising chiefly from the abolition of the Local Police Force in Belfast, and the substitution of the Constabulary in consequence of the Report of the Commission which inquired into the party riots which took place in Belfast in 1864.

* Some account of the origin of these forces is given in the Judicial Statistics for Ireland, 1863.

Constabulary and Police.

The reduction in the number of the Fire Brigade is only apparent, the Volunteer Fire Brigade men included in preceding years, having this year been omitted in calculating the total of the police force, and from some towns no returns were received for 1866, but the number and cost for 1865 has been included, as it may, in the absence of returns, be assumed that no change has taken place.

The only town in Ireland which has any local force corresponding to the English Borough Police is Londonderry.

In instituting a comparison between the Police Forces of Ireland and of England and Wales, the Irish Constabulary and Local Force may be compared with the English Police in Counties, Boroughs, and Dockyards; and the Dublin Metropolitan Police may be compared with the London Metropolitan Police and the City of London Police added together.

The returns as to the number of the Police Force in 1866 give for all Ireland the proportion of 1 to every 418 of the estimated population in that year.

In the Dublin Metropolitan Police district the Police Force is 1,067, which, with the addition of the Local Force (42*), makes 1,109 in a population of 335,449, as returned by the Metropolitan Police Commissioners, or 1 to every 302.

The proportion of Police in 1864-65 to population in 1861 in the City of London, was 1 to 172; in the London Metropolitan District, 1 to 457; in Borough Constables, 1 to 787; in County Constabulary, 1 to 1,371; and in all England and Wales, 1 to 902.

Cost of Establishments.

The total cost of the Police Establishments in Ireland, as returned in 1866 and 1865, is as follows:—

Cost of Police Establishments.	1866.	1865.	Increase, 1866.	Decrease, 1866.

This table indicates an increase in the cost of the Police Force of £13,230 0*s.* 8*d.*

The cost of the Police is collected under heads similar to those used in the Criminal Statistics for England and Wales, and from these the average cost per man has been calculated by the Police authorities, showing the following results as compared with the average cost in England and Wales in 1865.

Average Cost per Man.

	1866. £ s. d.	1865. £ s. d.

* Not including five Inspectors of Nuisances in Blackrock, Dalkey, and Pembroke Townships, who cost £97 in the year.

The proportion in which the costs of the Constabulary and Dublin Metropolitan Police are defrayed from the general taxes is returned as follows:— CONSTABULARY AND POLICE.

—	Total Cost.	Proportion paid by Her Majesty's Treasury.	Proportion paid from other Sources.

In England and Wales, . .	1,748,757 19 6	1,322,103 1 1	426,654 18 5

The proportion of the expenses of Police paid from local and general taxes in Ireland and in England and Wales, and the number and cost of that portion of the Irish Police which is in excess of the English proportion of Police, and the extent of relief to local taxation in Ireland in consequence of the Irish rate of payment for Police, are fully detailed in the Report of the Irish Judicial Statistics for 1865. The Fenian outbreak has shown the extent to which the Irish Constabulary serve the purposes of a standing army, so as to be naturally paid for out of the general taxes.

The number of criminal classes is shown by the fourth of the Constabulary and Police Tables, classified under the same heads as those adopted in the corresponding English Returns. In consequence of the difference in the Poor Law, and in the law as to Industrial Schools in the two countries, the vagrants and tramps are kept distinct from the other criminal classes in the following table of comparison.

16 years and above, ...	4,601	3,750	8,351	8,684	–	333

The preceding table exhibits a decrease in the criminal classes as compared with 1865. The decrease in vagrants and tramps is very satisfactory, as the numbers of this class had been increasing for several years.

The following table shows the total number of criminal classes in Ireland for the year 1866, compared with the corresponding classes in England and Wales for 1865.

The period at which the number of vagrants and tramps for 1865 was estimated in England and Wales, was changed from the month of September to the month of April, but the change does not affect the comparison between the numbers of the other criminal classes in England and Wales with those in Ireland.*

* Nor does it materially affect the comparison as to vagrants and tramps, as there was an increase shown in the numbers in England and Wales after the change was adopted.

This table exhibits the very satisfactory result that although the number of police in Ireland is so much greater than in a corresponding portion of the population in England and Wales, the number of criminal classes, other than vagrants and tramps, known to the police is less than one-half, being 10,118 as compared with 21,826 in a corresponding portion of the population in England and Wales in 1865.

With regard to vagrants and tramps under 16 years of age the proportion is reversed, the number in Ireland being 3,227, or nearly double 1,694, the number in a corresponding portion of the population in England and Wales in 1865. In connexion with this subject the total absence of Industrial Schools in Ireland should be borne in mind, whilst there were in certified Industrial Schools in England and Wales at the end of the year 1865, no less than 1,610, which gives 424 for a portion of the population of England and Wales equal to that of Ireland.

During the Session of 1866, the law as to Industrial Schools was consolidated for England and Wales by statute 29 & 30 Vic., c. 118; but this valuable code of laws, commencing in the year 1854 by statute 17 & 18 Vic., c. 86, and amended by successive enactments suggested by the experience of 11 years, has not yet been extended to Ireland. The greater number of juvenile delinquents, which I have had to notice for four years, would appear to indicate the necessity of this extension to Ireland. The actual number in Industrial Schools in England and Wales does not account for the whole excess of juvenile delinquents, for if 424, the proportion already referred to, be deducted from 1,533, it still leaves 1,109 to be accounted for. The more favourable state of affairs in this respect in England and Wales is partly to be ascribed to the indirect effect of the Industrial Schools Acts (in operation for 11 years) in reducing the number of juvenile delinquents not actually in the schools. The rest of the excess in this class must arise to a large extent from the same causes that produce the excess in Ireland of vagrants and tramps above 16 years of age. As one of these causes, it is impossible to overlook the very marked difference in the laws which regulate the relief of the poor in Ireland and in England and Wales. The Irish law being much more stringent than the English law with regard to women and children, the effect is shown by the relative numbers relieved in Ireland and in England and Wales.

The excess of vagrants and tramps of all ages in Ireland, amounting to 2,712, is very small when the difference between the proportion of the poor in receipt of Poor Law Relief in Ireland and in England and Wales is taken into consideration. The average daily number in receipt of relief in 1866–67, was 50,241 in Workhouses, and 12,205 out-door, or 62,446 in all, being 188,053 less than the number (250,499), in receipt of relief in 1865 in a portion of the population of England and Wales equal to that of Ireland.*

Criminal classes.

The houses of bad character, as ascertained by the police, in 1866 and 1865 are compared in the following table :—

Houses of bad character.

Houses of Bad Character.	1866.	1865.	Increase, 1866.	Decrease, 1866.
Houses of receivers of stolen goods,	870	981	–	111
Houses, the resort of thieves and prostitutes,	1,026	1,221	–	195
Brothels and houses of ill-fame,	593	569	24	–
Total (except Tramps' lodging-houses),	2,489	2,771	–	282
Tramps' lodging-houses,	3,552	3,778	–	226

This table exhibits a progressive decrease in the number of houses of bad character, of every class. The large decrease (226) in the number of tramps' lodging-houses during 1866 is the more satisfactory, as there had been in the previous year as compared with the number for 1864, an increase of 151 (from 3,627 in 1864 to 3,778 in 1865). These variations, it will be observed, are closely connected with the variations in the number of vagrants and tramps, which, as shown in a preceding table (page 9), had decreased by 581 during 1866, while in 1865 (during which the increase in the number of tramps' lodging-houses had taken place), there was an increase of 1,203.

Houses of bad character compared with those in England and Wales.

The following table gives a comparison of the number of houses of bad character in Ireland in 1866, with those in England and Wales in 1865 :—

Tramps' lodging-houses,	3,552	5,544	1,459	2,093	–

In this table the houses of bad character (except tramps' lodging-houses) in Ireland appear to be much fewer than in England and Wales, the houses of ill-fame and brothels being 593 as compared with 1,829 in a corresponding portion of the population in England and Wales in 1865. The excess in tramps' lodging-houses is connected with the increase already noticed with respect to vagrants and tramps.

The following summary gives a comparison of the proportions of the criminal classes to population on the same plan as that adopted in the statistics for 1865 :—

	Criminal Classes (including Prostitutes).	Prostitutes separately.
Dublin Metropolitan Police district,	2,683 or 1 in 125	1,206 or 1 in 278
Counties of Antrim (including towns of Belfast and Carrickfergus), Armagh, Down (linen trade and agriculture),	2,199 or 1 in 395	691 or 1 in 1,256
Provinces of Munster and Connaught (agriculture),	8,836 or 1 in 272	753 or 1 in 3,194
Ireland,	21,696 or 1 in 266	3,157 or 1 in 1,829

* The mean estimated number of paupers of all classes (including children) at one time in receipt of relief in England and Wales in 1865 was 951,899, viz. :—131,313 in-door, and 820,586 out-door. The workhouse relief in Ireland is 14,751 above the number in the corresponding portion of the population in England and Wales in 1864, and the out-door is 118,475 less.

CONSTABULARY AND POLICE.

That we may judge whether these proportions are satisfactory or not, I add the corresponding proportions for England and Wales for 1865 :—

	Criminal Classes (including Prostitutes).	Prostitutes separately.

Total criminal classes.

As in order to ascertain the entire number of the criminal classes at any given time, it is necessary to add to those at large the number of those in confinement, the following tables are inserted exhibiting an estimate of the Irish criminal classes in 1866, as compared with 1865, and with the corresponding number in the English statistics for 1865 :—

CRIMINAL CLASSES IN 1866, COMPARED WITH THOSE IN 1865.	1866.	1865.	Increase, 1866.	Decrease, 1866.
Criminal Classes at large, including 11,578 tramps and vagrants,	21,696	23,603	–	1,907

In Convict Prisons,	1,432	1,637	–	205

Number in a portion of the Population of England and Wales equal to that of Ireland.	Irish Criminal Classes in 1866 in excess of those in equal Population in England and Wales in 1865.	Irish Criminal Classes in 1866 less than those in an equal Population in England and Wales in 1865.
Criminal Classes at large, including 11,578 tramps and vagrants,	21,696	116,749	30,723	–	9,027
In Local Prisons,	2,343	17,346	4,565	–	2,222

In Reformatories,	632	3,388	892	–	260

It appears from this table that the total number (26,103) of the criminal classes in Ireland, including those at large as well as those in prison, is less numerous by 12,066, or 31 per cent., than the number (38,169) of the corresponding classes in 1865, in a portion of the population of England and Wales equal to that of Ireland.

Indictable offences (not disposed of summarily).

The number of crimes returned by the Police, and the number of persons apprehended in Ireland were as follow :—

INDICTABLE OFFENCES NOT DISPOSED OF SUMMARILY.	Crimes Returned.	Persons Apprehended.
January, February, and March,	2,451	1,788
April, May, and June,	2,094	1,429
July, August, and September,	2,117	1,444
October, November, and December,	2,420	1,591
Total,	9,082	6,252

* In this table the number in Bridewells in Ireland is not included: the number, however, is small, and is more than counterbalanced by the omission of the numbers in Industrial Schools in England and Wales, and the number of military prisoners and debtors in the local prisons in England and Wales.

Indictable offences (not disposed of summarily).

The apprehensions were in the proportion of 68·8 per cent. to the number of crimes returned. In England and Wales in 1865 the apprehensions were in the proportion of 55·6 per cent. to the number of crimes returned. It is stated in the English statistics that the only higher proportion of apprehensions ever attained was 58·2 per cent. of the number of crimes committed (in the year 1863). It is to be observed that the number of apprehensions in Ireland is in a much higher proportion than this.

The statistics of crimes and apprehensions are compared with the corresponding statistics of England and Wales for 1865 in the following tables :—

Indictable Offences in 1866 (not disposed of summarily) compared with those in England and Wales in 1865.	Ireland, 1866. Total.	England and Wales, 1865. Total.	England and Wales, 1865. October, November, and December,	1,591	7,573	1,993	–	402

The maximum of crime in Ireland which, as indicated by the statistics, has hitherto been in the months of July, August, and September, was attained this year in January, February, and March—a change to be attributed to the outbreak of Fenianism, which took place in March. In England and Wales the maximum is in October, November, and December.

The indictable offences returned by the Police for 1866 and 1865 are compared in the following table :—

Whilst the above table shows a general decrease from 9,766 to 9,082, there appears to be an increase in the number of murders, but the Police statistics as to murder, do not agree with the Coroners' statistics as noticed in the next page.

As the heads of the annual Police returns were not framed to include treason and the other offences connected with it, special forms were sent to the Police.

The following is a summary of the special returns received :—

TREASONABLE AND SEDITIOUS OFFENCES IN 1866 RETURNED UNDER THE FOLLOWING HEADS IN THE PRECEDING TABLE.	High Treason.	Treasonable Felony.	Sedition and having Seditious Papers. It appears from this summary that the treasonable and seditious offences arising out of the Fenian conspiracy were the chief unfavourable features in the Police statistics of indictable offences in Ireland in 1866.

The following summary gives the number of indictable offences not disposed of summarily, returned in Ireland for 1866, as compared with the number in England and Wales in 1865 :—

Indictable offences (not disposed of summarily).

The characteristics of Irish crime indicated by this summary correspond with those observed last year, the most unfavourable features being malicious offences against property, riots, assaults inflicting bodily harm, and other assaults.

Of offences against property there is a much smaller number than in a corresponding portion of the population in England and Wales. This arises in part, no doubt, from the much larger quantity of property to tempt thieves in England and Wales, and the much smaller proportion of police to population, there being only one-half the number of policemen to the same number of the population in England that there is in Ireland.

As regards the offences of attempts to murder, shooting at, wounding, stabbing, &c., to do bodily harm, and manslaughter, the Irish statistics are more favourable than the English, and also the statistics of unnatural offences, rape and immoral offences, perjury, and attempts to commit suicide.

The Police statistics as to murder show 66 in Ireland, as compared with 36 in a corresponding portion of the population in England and Wales in 1865; but the Coroners' statistics, which as to the number of crimes affecting life appear to be more reliable than those returned by the Police, show 64 verdicts of wilful murder in Ireland, and 231 in England and Wales outside Middlesex, besides 94 verdicts of wilful murder of children under one year of age, and 77 cases of murder of persons above that age, in Middlesex alone, or 402 in all. This gives 106 as the number of murders in a portion of the population in England and Wales equal to that of Ireland, which is a very much larger proportion than in Ireland.

The following summary gives the number of infanticides and other murders in Ireland, according to the Coroners' Returns, as compared with the corresponding statistics in England and Wales. It appears from this summary that there is an excess both of infanticides and of other murders in England and Wales, there having been 46 verdicts of infanticide in an equal portion of the population in England and Wales in 1865, for 40 in Ireland, and 60 verdicts for other murders as compared with 24 in Ireland.

Murder, according to Coroners' Returns.	Ireland, 1866.	England and Wales, 1865.		Murders in Ireland in 1866 in excess of those in equal population in England and Wales in 1865.	Murders in Ireland in 1866 less than those in equal population in England and Wales in 1865.
		Total.	Number in a portion of the population of England and Wales equal to that of Ireland.

Total Murders, ...	64	402	106	–	42

The Census Commissioners ascertained that the number of children under one year of age in Ireland to the rest of the population was, in 1861, as 2·4 to 97·6, or in other words, that in every 200 of the population, about 5 are infants under one year of age. It follows from this that the number of murders of infants under one year of age which would correspond to the 24 murders appearing to have taken place by the Coroners' Returns amongst the rest of the population, would be less than one a year; being only ·59, or about 3 in five years. The number of infanticides (40) is therefore more than 67 times the number of murders occurring amongst the same amount of the population at other periods of life on an average.

In England and Wales the proportion of those under one year to those above one year of age is 3 to 97; it follows, therefore, that the number of infanticides which would correspond to the 227 murders of persons above one year of age would be 7 in one year. The actual number (175) would appear to be on an average about 25 times the number occurring amongst the same amount of population in England and Wales at other periods of life.

The amount of infanticide indicated by the verdicts of Coroners' juries in both countries is very startling, and resting as they do upon the sworn verdicts of a number of independent juries before different Coroners in all parts of both countries, the statistics are free from any prejudice which might lead to a wrong estimate or statement of the excess of infanticide which they indicate.

Offences determined summarily.

The offences determined summarily in 1866 and 1865 are compared in the following table :—

Total other than indictable offences,	214,976	212,622	2,354	–
Total offences determined summarily,	236,835	233,879	2,956	–

The offences (included in the preceding summary) to be attributed to the Fenian conspiracy are indicated in the following table. There was a considerable increase in the number of offences under these heads as compared with the number in 1865, especially in the offence of using seditious language :—

Treasonable and Seditious Offences in 1866 returned under the following heads in preceding Table.	High Treason.	Treasonable Felony.	Sedition.	Attempts, and Administering Treasonable Oaths.	Using Seditious Language.	Defacing Proclamations.	Total.

Police Acts—other offences not falling under other special heads,	–	1	1	–	2	–	4
Other offences not included under the above heads,	–	12	2	–	89	7	110
Total,	–	13	3	–	96	7	119

In the offences which might be indicted there was an increase of 602, which, however, does not bring the number up to that returned for 1864, as there had been a decrease of 1,314 in this class of offences in the year 1865. In the offences not indictable there appears also to have been, during 1866, an increase of 2,354.

Offences determined summarily.

The following table gives a comparison of the offences determined summarily in Ireland in 1866, with those in England and Wales in 1865 :—

Total offences determined summarily,	236,835	120,766	116,069	–

The first four classes in the preceding table are the only classes therein that are certain to include offences which might be made the subject of indictment, and it appears that these minor cases of Indictable Offences (determined summarily) indicate the same characteristics as the table of graver cases (not determined summarily)—the number of such offences is 21,859, being 2,784 less than the number (24,643) in an equal portion of the population in England and Wales in 1865; there is also less of theft, and of crimes indicating a low moral tone, such as aggravated assaults on women and children, than in England and Wales; on the other hand there is a greater prevalence of malicious offences in Ireland.

In the less serious offences the chief excess is under the following heads—drunkenness, offences against Ways Acts, Pawnbrokers' Act, Revenue Laws, Vagrant Acts, and common assaults. Thus if the excess in offences not classed (8,505) be deducted from the entire excess (118,853), the difference (110,348) is more than accounted for by the excess of offences under the four following heads, viz. :—

Drunkenness,	54,481
Offences against Acts of Parliament, such as Ways Acts, Pawnbrokers' Act, Revenue Laws, &c.,	48,828
Offences against Vagrant Acts,	2,391
Common Assaults,	10,340
Total,	116,040

With respect to offences against the above Acts of Parliament, the fact that the Irish Police act as Inspectors of weights and measures, and as a Revenue Police, would naturally lead to greater vigilance in enforcing these Acts, and the much larger proportion of police to population in Ireland than in England and Wales would also lead to greater activity in the detection and punishment of minor offences, especially as the Justices have power to award one-third of the pecuniary penalties (the usual punishment for such offences), to the Constabulary reward fund.

This inevitable effect of the large proportion of Police in Ireland is illustrated by the statistics as to Prostitutes. Thus, while it appears from the Police Tables that the number of Prostitutes known to the Police in Ireland in 1866 was 3,157, as compared with 7,249 in an equal portion of the population in England and Wales in 1865, there were 4,242 charges against Prostitutes under the Vagrant Acts in Ireland in 1866, as compared with 1,851 in an equal portion of the population in England and Wales in 1865.

The number of offences against the Poor Law Acts in Ireland in 1866 for deserting families and disorderly conduct in Workhouses is only 693, as compared with 2,064 in a corresponding portion of the population in England and Wales in 1865.

Result of proceedings.

The following summary exhibits the result of the proceedings in cases determined summarily :—

	Men and Boys.	Women and Girls.	Total.
Total number proceeded against, . . .	192,364	44,471	236,835
„ convicted, ...	158,999	33,131	192,130

Thus it appears that in the case of offences determined summarily, the convictions were 81 per cent. of the persons proceeded against. This is a higher proportion of convictions than in England and Wales in 1865 where the per-centage of convictions is 68·2 of the number of persons proceeded against.

Punishments.

The penalties imposed on those convicted are stated under the same classification as in the English statistics, and the proportions of the different punishments are compared with the corresponding proportions in England and Wales in the following summary :—

PUNISHMENTS FOR OFFENCES DETERMINED SUMMARILY IN 1866, COMPARED WITH THOSE IN ENGLAND AND WALES IN 1865.	Number of Cases.	Proportion per cent. Ireland, 1866.	Corresponding proportion per cent. for England and Wales, 1865.

Other Punishments, ...	16,669	8·68	8·99
Total convicted, . . .	192,130	100·	100·

It appears from this summary that the punishments of a trifling character bear a higher proportion in Ireland to the total punishments than in England and Wales, whilst the proportional number of serious punishments is much less in Ireland, indicating that a large part of the excess in the case of offences determined summarily in Ireland is to be found amongst the offences of a less serious character.

Character of Persons proceeded against.

The character of the persons proceeded against is compared with the corresponding English statistics in the following summary :—

Character of Persons Proceeded Against compared with similar Statistics for England and Wales.	Ireland, 1866.	England and Wales, 1865.		Excess of Persons proceeded against in Ireland in 1866 as compared with England and Wales in 1865. 		Total.	Number in a portion of the Population of England and Wales equal to that of Ireland.

Total of Ireland,	243,087	487,973	128,414	114,673	–

It appears from this summary that 16·1 per cent. of the persons proceeded against were of character unknown to the police, whilst in England and Wales 34 per cent. of those proceeded against were of that class. This arises in part from the much higher number of police in proportion to the population in Ireland than in England and Wales, already noticed, and in part from the greater number of foreigners, and from the greater aggregation of the people in cities and towns in England than in Ireland.

In Ireland 67·7 per cent. of those proceeded against were of previous good character, while in England and Wales only 38 per cent. were of this class. It appears that while the total excess of persons proceeded against in Ireland over those proceeded against in an equal population in England and Wales was 114,673, the excess of persons of previous good character proceeded against was 115,640. These figures afford further indications of the less serious character of a large part of the offences disposed of summarily in Ireland.

Inquests.

Coroners' Returns.

The returns which have been obtained from the Coroners show the number of inquests to have been 3,092—2,099 on men and boys, and 993 on women and girls. In England and Wales, in 1865, the number was 25,011—17,566 on men and boys, and 7,445 on women and girls. This would give the proportion to be expected in Ireland as 6,582, showing that the inquests in Ireland are less than one-half the number held in an equal population in England and Wales.

It appears that of the 64 verdicts of murder returned by Coroners 40 were of children under the age of one year, and 24 were other murders, showing a great excess of infanticide as already noticed in connexion with the Police statistics as to murder.*

The returns show the cost of the inquests to be £6,783 6*s.* 11*d.*, and the average cost of each inquest to be £2 3*s.* 10*d.*, whilst in England and Wales it is £2 19*s.* 10*d.*

CRIMINAL PROCEEDINGS.

Criminal Proceedings.

Cost of Criminal Prosecutions.

An account of the sums paid by Her Majesty's Treasury for criminal prosecutions at Assizes and Quarter Sessions, and at the Dublin Commission Court, and proceedings at Petty Sessions, Inquests, and Police Courts, has been made up from returns received from the Crown Solicitors in Ireland, and from the County and City Treasurers. The Crown Solicitors' returns show the number of prosecutions conducted by the Crown Counsel and Crown Solicitors' at Assizes and at the Dublin Commission Court, and the costs, exclusive of prosecutors and witnesses' expenses which are paid through the County and City Treasurers. The latter expense and the number of prosecutors and witnesses paid have been ascertained from the County and City Treasurers, but these payments are not confined to prosecutions in which the Crown Counsel and Solicitors are engaged.

The following table gives a summary of the costs of criminal prosecutions in Ireland, with the number of Crown prosecutions in County and City of Dublin, and Crown prosecutions on Circuit, and in 26 of the 39 Quarter Sessions Courts :—

Costs of Criminal Prosecutions compared with those in 1865.	Number of Crown Prosecutions, 1866.	Number of Crown Prosecutions, 1865.	Increase, 1866.	Decrease, 1866.	Costs of Criminal Prosecutions, 1866.	Costs of Criminal Prosecutions, 1865.	Increase, 1866.	Decrease, 1866.

This table shows an increase (attributable to the prosecutions for Fenianism) in the number and costs of Crown prosecutions in Dublin, and in the number of Crown prosecutions at the Assizes throughout the country, but a considerable decrease in the number of cases in the Quarter Sessions Courts.

The criminal prosecutions in Ireland are managed differently from those in England and Wales. The Executive Goverment, by the Law Officers and Crown Solicitors, takes charge of all the serious cases at Assizes in Ireland and at the Dublin Commission Court. In England and Wales the Treasury Solicitor in 1865 prosecuted in 310 Mint cases, and in 94 other cases; while the prosecutions at the Circuit Assize Courts, in 1865, were 2,968, and at the Central Criminal Court, 698. At the Quarter Sessions in Ireland a Sessional Crown Solicitor attends, but Barristers are scarcely ever employed. From these differences the expenses of Crown prosecutions in Ireland should be higher at Assizes than in England and Wales, and less at Quarter Sessions.

As the English Returns appear to include the cases in which witnesses were paid as well as those in which professional assistance was employed, the average costs founded upon such numbers will not compare with the average cost in Ireland, calculated on the cases in which the Crown Solicitor intervenes, and therefore no comparison of average cost is given.

Assizes, Quarter Sessions, &c.

The tables of Criminal Proceedings at Assizes, at the Dublin Commission Court, and at Quarter Sessions, have been compiled so as to give in a condensed form information similar to that contained in the "Irish Criminal Tables,"* which were annually presented to Parliament for many years previous to the compilation of the Irish Judicial and Criminal Statistics for 1863.

* The origin of the Irish Criminal Tables is explained in the Irish Judicial Statistics for 1863, p. xix.

The forms of return used for the Irish Criminal Tables have been preserved, so as to allow of an accurate comparison with the statistics of this class of criminal proceedings in Ireland for past years, and by this means the defect is obviated to which the Irish Judicial Statistics, from being only compiled for three years, would otherwise be subject.

In this comparison it was necessary to mark the large addition to the number of the offences treated as distinct, inserted by the advice of the Law Adviser to the Irish Government in the Tables of 1862, after the Consolidated Criminal Statutes had come into operation. This has been done on Table 4, and the figures before and after the new classification of offences are distinguished by a broad line. The change, however, does not affect the total number of offences of all classes.

The number of persons for trial at Assizes, the Dublin Commission Court, and at Quarter Sessions, is compared with the numbers in the preceding ten years in the following summary:—

—	No. of Persons for Trial.	Actual Increase.	Actual Decrease.	No. per 100,000 of Population. *	Increase per 100,000.	Decrease per 100,000.

Decrease in 10 years,		2,884			45

The decrease during 1866 in the number of persons sent for trial, as compared with the year immediately preceding, of 331, or upwards of 7 per cent., is highly satisfactory, following as it does upon progressive decreases since 1857 (except in the exceptional years of distress, 1861 and 1862), so that 1866 presents a smaller number of persons for trial than any year of the last ten, and shows a reduction of 2,884 (from 7,210 in 1857 to 4,326 in 1866) being a decrease of 40 per cent. As, however, in order to form a correct estimate of the amount of crime, it is necessary to take into account the number of the population, I have added four columns to the above table showing the number of persons for trial in every 100,000 of the people. A very remarkable decrease in the amount of crime during the last ten years is thus indicated, there having been, in 1857, 122 persons for trial in every 100,000 of the population, while in 1866 this number had been reduced to 77, being a decrease of 45 per 100,000 of population, or 37 per cent.

Classes of Offences compared with 1865.

The differences in the classes of offences of which those for trial in 1866 and 1865 were convicted or charged are indicated by the following summary:—

CRIMINAL PROCEEDINGS.

Assizes, Quarter Sessions, &c.—continued.

The chief unfavourable feature in this summary is the increase in the number of offences not included in any of the specified classes from 926 cases in 1865 to 1,041 in 1866, being an increase of 12·4 per cent. The other unfavourable features are slight increases of less than one-half per cent. in the number of offences against property with violence and of cases of Treasonable Felony.

The favourable symptoms are decreases of 15·5 per cent. in offences against the person; of 24·4 per cent. in malicious offences against property; of 22·2 per cent. in offences against the currency; and of 7 per cent. in all the offences grouped together.

In connexion with the efforts to extend manufactures in Ireland, the statistics afford very satisfactory results. There was not a single person for trial for destroying machines or goods in process of manufacture in 1866. There were, however, 6 persons for trial for riot and feloniously demolishing buildings, machinery, &c., which is an increase on the number (1) in 1865. For offences connected with conspiracies or combinations to raise the rate of wages, there were three persons for trial in 1866, which were the only cases of the kind which have occurred for the last four years. These statistics are, however, upon the whole highly creditable to the tradesmen and labouring classes engaged in manufactures.

Convictions.

The following summary shows the number convicted, and not convicted, and the rate per cent. of each class for each of the last ten years :—

1866,	2,418	1,908	4,326	55·90	44·10

The proportion of those acquitted and discharged in 1866 to those placed on trial (44·10 per cent.) is still at a much higher rate than in England and Wales, where the proportion of the acquitted and discharged in 1865 amounted to but 24·6 per cent.

Capital convictions.

Of the 4 persons sentenced to death in 1866, in 2 cases the sentence was commuted to penal servitude, and the following 2 persons were executed :—

Patrick Power, aged 20, murder of his father, for interfering with his wild courses, and attempting to prevent him making an unsuitable marriage.

John Loyne, aged 23, murder of a boy 10 years old, the son of a small farmer. The child's father had prosecuted Loyne for dishonesty while in his employment as farm servant, for which crime he was sentenced to penal servitude. On the expiration of the sentence he went to the farmer's house to shoot him, but the son accidentally received the shot fired at the father.

In addition to the information similar to that given in the English Tables of Criminal Proceedings, the Irish Criminal Tables contain details as to the ages and state of instruction of the persons for trial.

In the Irish Tables those detained in Reformatory Schools are classed according to the original sentence of imprisonment imposed, and shown as a separate class.—Vide Tables, pp. 86, 87. The result of the systematic education of the poorer classes in Ireland is shown by this table. While the proportion of those the state of whose education has not been ascertained is less in 1866 than in 1857, the proportion of those who can read and write has increased from 28·21 to 35·46 per cent.

Sexes and state of instruction on commitment.

The sexes of those for trial for 1865 and 1866, and the state of instruction of those committed of each sex, are given in the following summary :—

Number for trial in the different counties, &c., compared with those in 1865.

It appears from this summary that while the proportion of men and boys who were ascertained to be incapable on their commitment of either reading or writing was 25·57 per cent., the proportion of women and girls in this state of ignorance was 49·13 per cent., the former of which is a decrease, the latter an increase on the per centage for 1865.

The number of persons for trial being less than in 1865, it is of importance to trace whether this diminution was general or local. For this purpose the following summary has been compiled.

CRIMINAL PROCEEDINGS.

Quarter Sessions.

It appears that the improvement in 1866, as shown by the smaller number of persons for trial, extended to 18 counties and 1 Riding out of the 32 counties, to 5 counties of cities or of towns, and to 3 provinces.

The Court of Quarter Sessions in Ireland is in one respect differently constituted from the Court of Quarter Sessions in England, being presided over by the Chairman of the County, or Irish County Court Judge. A table has been introduced showing the appeals from Magistrates, which are given in another form in the English statistics; the applications for spirit licences and the disposal of bills of indictment are also shown, so as to give a complete view of the entire business at Quarter Sessions.

The proceedings at Quarter Sessions as compared with those in 1865, were as follow:—

PROCEEDINGS AT QUARTER SESSIONS.	1866.	1865.	Increase, 1866.	Decrease, 1866.
Appeals from Magistrates:—

It appears from this summary that there was a considerable decrease in the business at Quarter Sessions in 1866.

Court for the consideration of Crown cases reserved.

The Court for the consideration of Crown cases reserved, constituted by Stat. 11 and 12 Vic., c. 78, corresponds to the Court of Criminal Appeal in England. There were 10 appeals before it in 1866.

The proceedings at Jurors' Sessions for revising the Jurors' Lists have been returned for all the counties of cities and of towns, and for 25 out of the 32 counties of Ireland; the returns wanting being those for the counties of Dublin, Meath, Louth, Queen's County, Cavan, Down, and Sligo.

* This Court corresponds to the Central Criminal Court in England, and has jurisdiction in the county and county of the city of Dublin.

The following summary shows the proportion of Jurors to the population in the different counties from which returns have been received :—

The different districts present great diversity as to the number of qualified Jurors in proportion to population—from 1 in 56 of the population in Carlow to 1 in 250 in Roscommon. This arises in part from the greater or less extent to which the leasehold tenure, upon which the qualification mainly depends, has been replaced in different districts by a yearly tenancy, which is not, except in towns, a qualification for a Juror. It also arises in part from the extent to which the statutable provisions as to qualifications are disregarded.

The statutable qualifications for Jurors for counties at large are—

In Rural Districts, ... { Freeholders. Leaseholders.

In Towns, ... { Resident Merchants. Freemen. Householders.

It appears, however, that in no less than 27 districts out of 73 from which returns have been received, persons are returned as Jurors with other than the statutable qualification.

Prisons.

PRISONS.

Under the head of Prisons are included the statistics of bridewells and of gaols in counties, and counties of cities or of towns, convict prisons, and reformatories, as also the statistics of criminal lunatics confined in goals and lunatic asylums. The prisoners in the Four Courts Marshalsea* at Dublin have not been included, the numbers in it not having been hitherto included in the General Tables of the Inspectors-General of Prisons.

The gaols included in these tables are 39 in number. They are not divided into county, borough, and liberty prisons as in England and Wales. The towns in Ireland that have distinct taxation for gaols are those which are counties of cities or counties of towns being only 8 out of the 33 boroughs in Ireland; of these 8 towns with distinct taxation only 5 have actually distinct gaols, there being only 1 gaol for the county and city of

* The Inspectors-General of Prisons, though not including the Four Courts Marshalsea in their General Report add in an Appendix a special Report on this institution, from which it appears that there were 32 prisoners in custody on the 31st December, 1865, the maximum at any time in the year having been 50, and that the total commitments in the year were 280.

Kilkenny, 1 for the county and city of Waterford, and 1 for the county of Antrim and the county of the town of Carrickfergus. Prisons.

The table as to bridewells is compiled in the office of the Inspector-General of Prisons from the returns made to that department, and when compared with that for 1865 it gives the following result:— Bridewells.

Bridewells.	Men and Boys.	Women and Girls.	Total, 1866.	Total, 1865.	Increase.	Decrease.

Total Cost, ...	. .	. .	£ s. d. 6,365 18 9	£ s. d. 6,417 0 8¾	–	£ s. d. 51 1 11¾

This summary shows a decrease in the number of commitments for drunkenness from 10,650 in 1865 to 9,782 in 1866. The returns for 1865 showed a serious increase in the number of commitments for this offence as compared with the returns for 1864 and 1863. This increase was remarkable as it took place notwithstanding the passing of the "Beer-houses (Ireland) Act, 1864," Stat. 27 & 28 Vic., c. 35. The number, however, for 1866 has been reduced to a figure very little exceeding that for 1864.

The number of commitments to county gaols, inclusive of debtors, or commitments on civil process, was as follows:— Gaols for Counties, &c. Commitments.

	1866.	1865.	Decrease in 1866.

The number of commitments to gaols in Ireland during 1866, classified according to sexes and the nature of convictions, with the proportion per cent. of each, as compared with the corresponding proportion per cent. in England and Wales in 1865, is shown in the following summary:—

It appears from this summary that the proportion of persons convicted at Assizes and Quarter Sessions, of debtors and of military and naval prisoners, is greater in England and Wales than in Ireland, whilst the proportion of those summarily convicted, and those unconvicted, is greater in Ireland than in England and Wales.

The number and proportion of previous commitments in 1866 is given in the following summary with the English proportion in 1865, for comparison :—

Previous Commitments.

The much larger number of men and boys than women and girls committed, verifies the well-known social law that women are in general less criminal than men, whilst the fact that recommitments of women are much more frequent than in the case of men is in strict accordance with another social law, that when women once enter into the paths of crime they become more criminal than men.*

The following summary shows the ages and sexes of persons (except debtors and persons charged with military and naval offences) committed to the different county and county of city or of town gaols in 1866.

Ages.

The proportion of each sex at the different ages in the prisons in England and Wales in 1865 is added for comparison.

Total,	16,693	11,787	28,480	100·	100·	100·	100·

It appears from this summary that the same general social law as to the ages of prisoners in county gaols prevails in Ireland as in England and Wales. There are however variations, especially as to the striking excess in Ireland in the number of prisoners of both sexes between 21 and 30 years of age, as compared with the number in the other classes—a circumstance which suggests an inquiry into the causes of the difference. The figures in the above table show a total decrease as compared with the figures for last year in the number of those confined in prison of 3,171, there being a decrease of 1,296 males and 1,875 females.

* The extent to which depraved women are recommitted is shown by the Inspectors-General of Prisons in their Report for 1866. It appears from that Report, p. xiv., that of the 263 persons committed between 20 and 30 times, 214 were females; of the 125 committed between 30 and 50 times, 107 were females; and that of the 36 committed more than 50 times, 35 were females, one woman having been committed so often as 226 times; and of the total number who had undergone more than 20 commitments, 489 were women and but 83 were men.

The following summary shows the birthplace of the persons (other than debtors, and persons charged with military and naval offences) committed to the different county and county of city or of town gaols in Ireland in 1866.

The proportion of persons born in the same countries in the county prisons in England and Wales in 1865 is given for comparison.

Birthplace.	Men and Boys.	Women and Girls.	Total of both Sexes.	Proportion per cent.
				Men and Boys.		Women and Girls.
				Ireland, 1866.	England and Wales, 1865.	Ireland, 1866.	England and Wales, 1865.

Total,	16,693	11,787	28,480	100·	100·	100·	100·

It appears from this summary that there were less than one per cent. of women and girls, and less than four per cent. of men and boys not of Irish birth in Irish gaols, whilst in England and Wales in 1865 there were 16 per cent. of men and boys and 26 per cent. of women and girls in English prisons not born in England and Wales, and of these strangers no less than 12 per cent. of the men and boys and 21 per cent. of the women and girls were of Irish birth.

There is a very small number of persons of Scotch birth in the English prisons, but it is remarkable that the number of women and girls, 2·8 per cent., is nearly double 1·8 per cent. the number of men and boys, just as is the case of Irish emigrants.

It is probable that in both cases this difference arises from the migration of women of bad character from the poorer to the wealthier parts of the kingdom.

Degree of instruction of prisoners.

The following summary gives the degree of instruction of the same class of prisoners in gaols, as those already referred to, in Ireland in 1866, with the English proportion for 1865 for comparison :—

Degree of Instruction.	Men and Boys.	Women and Girls.	Total of both Sexes.	Proportion per cent.
				Men and Boys.		Women and Girls.
				Ireland, 1866.	England and Wales, 1865.	Ireland, 1866.	England and Wales, 1865.
Neither read nor write,	6,128	6,033	12,161	36·7	34·9	51·2	37·6
Read, or read and write imperfectly,	4,034	3,672	7,706	24·2	60·4	31·1	59·8

Total,	16,693	11,787	28,480	100·	100·	100·	100·

The comparison in this table shows that there is a larger per-centage of prisoners in Ireland entirely destitute of instruction than in England and Wales, whilst of those who are educated there is a larger per-centage who can read and write well.

Occupations of prisoners.

The following table shows a comparison between Ireland in 1866 and England and Wales in 1865, as regards the proportion per cent. of the prisoners in the various occupations :—

Occupations.	Men and Boys.	Women and Girls.	Total of both Sexes.	Proportion per cent.

Total,	16,693	11,787	28,480	100·	100·	100·	100·

The excess of factory workers and mechanics in England and Wales indicated in this table arises from the greater number employed in manufactures there, and the different proportion of the different sexes of domestic servants arises from the tax on man servants in England, which does not exist in Ireland, and the consequent greater proportional employment of women servants there.

Number of prisoners.

The following summary shows the number of prisoners in the different gaols in Ireland in 1866, compared with the corresponding number in England and Wales in 1865 :—

The result of the comparison shown in the above tables between the numbers in the Irish county gaols as compared with those in the English gaols, both at the beginning and end of the year 1866 is very satisfactory, the number of Irish prisoners being at both periods very much less in proportion to the population than the number in England; and yet the Irish prisoners appear to have been dealt with much more leniently than the English prisoners, 262 having been discharged on pardon or commutation of sentence, whilst only 38 were so discharged amongst an equal portion of the population in England and Wales, and 863 having been released on bail, as compared with 199 under similar circumstances in England and Wales.

The number sent to lunatic asylums in Ireland, (553,) greatly exceeds the proportionate number (36) for England and Wales; but this arises from the state of the law, which still allows dangerous lunatics to be sent to gaols in Ireland, whilst they are sent direct to lunatic asylums in England and Wales, under Statute 1 & 2 Vic., c. 14, by which the power of sending dangerous lunatics to prisons in England was repealed in 1838.*

Number of prisoners gaols capable of accommodating.

The following summary shows the number of persons the different gaols in Ireland are constructed to contain, the greatest number confined at one time, and the daily average number:—

	Men and Boys.	Women and Girls.	Total.
Prisons constructed to contain	5,208	2,169	7,377
Greatest number of prisoners confined at one time,	2,792	1,107	3,899
Daily average number of prisoners in the year,	1,857	835	2,692

* By Stat. 30 and 31 Vic., c. 118, passed while this report was going through the press; the law in Ireland is assimilated to the law in England, so that dangerous lunatics in Ireland will, for the future, be sent direct to asylums.

PRISONS.

Gaols for Counties, &c.

The following summary shows the punishments for prison offences in the different gaols in Ireland in 1866, with the corresponding numbers for English prisons in 1865 :—

Punishments for prison offences.

PUNISHMENTS FOR PRISON OFFENCES.	IRELAND, 1866.			ENGLAND AND WALES, 1865.	English proportion of Punishments for Irish daily average number of Prisoners. Total,	1,619	347	1,966	60,667	9,055	7,089

The contrast between the Irish and English prisons shown by those figures is remarkable. There were 9,055 punishments inflicted in English prisons amongst 2,692 prisoners (the Irish daily average number), while there were only 1,966 punishments inflicted in Irish prisons among the same daily average number of prisoners.

Discipline was maintained in Ireland in 1866 without whipping, with less resort to irons or handcuffs, with about one-half the use of solitary or dark cells, and the stoppage of diet in Ireland was rendered necessary only 392 times, as compared with 6,315 times in England and Wales.

Number of officers in gaols.

The following summary shows the number of officers in Irish county gaols, and the number of officers of each class in the corresponding English prisons for comparison :—

Total,	599	149	748	2,423	656	92	–

The chief points to be noticed in the Irish as compared with the English gaols in respect of officers is the greater staff of officers in Ireland, especially of officers of a superior class, the number of Chaplains in Ireland being 92 where there were only 39 in England, and the Local Inspectors being entirely wanting in England.

These figures are very important in connexion with the circumstance that discipline is maintained in Irish gaols with very much fewer cases of punishment for prison offences than in England.

The following summary shows the expenses in detail, the total costs of gaols and of officers and prisoners, and the average charge per prisoner in Ireland in 1866 with the corresponding figures for England and Wales in 1865 :—

It appears from this summary that there was a diminution of 7 in the number of convicts received during the year, from 312 in 1865 to 305 in 1866, being at the rate of 2 per cent., indicating a diminution to that extent in the more serious offences for which severe punishments were inflicted during the year.

There was a decrease in the number let out on tickets-of-leave from 310 in 1865 to 308 in 1866. The number of tickets-of-leave granted in England amongst an equal number of convicts disposed of in 1865 was 326.

There was an increase in the number of those discharged on the termination of their sentence, from 96 in 1865 to 108 in 1866, but this number is higher than the number (26) discharged on the termination of their sentence in England amongst an equal number of convicts disposed of in 1865.

Reformatory Schools.

The Inspector of Reformatory Schools has made returns in forms somewhat similar to those in the English Judicial Statistics.

There are 4 reformatory schools for boys, and 5 for girls in Ireland. Three are for Protestants, of which 2 are for boys and 1 for girls; six are for Roman Catholics, of which 2 are for boys and 4 for girls. The total number committed in 1866 was 163. Of these, 136 were boys and 27 girls; 142 were Roman Catholics, and 21 were Protestants.

Terms of detention in reformatories.

The terms of detention of the offenders committed in 1866 were as follow :—

Previous imprisonment—		Subsequent detention in reformatories—
14 days,	104	2 years,	1
1 month and above 14 days,	48	3 years,	17
2 months and above 1 month,	9	4 years,	17
4 months and above 2 months,	2	5 years,	128

The number committed on indictment before Judges of the Superior Courts, the Recorder of Dublin, and the Chairmen of Quarter Sessions, was 24, or 15 per cent. of the entire number; and 139, or 85 per cent., were committed on summary convictions before Justices. These numbers show an increase upon the numbers in 1865 of 18 boys, and a decrease of 15 girls, giving a total increase of 3.

As 20 per cent. were committed on indictments in 1865, it appears that a smaller proportion has been committed from the higher tribunals in 1866. In England and Wales in 1865, 22 per cent. were committed on indictment.

Position as regards parental control of boys and girls in reformatories.

The position of those committed to reformatories in Ireland, as regards parental control, is shown by the following table :—

	One only.	Both.	Total.
Parents dead,	57	32	89
Deserted by parents,	13	4	17
Parents in prison,	–	3	3
Otherwise uncontrolled by parents,	11	20	31
Total not under parental control,	81	59	140
Under parental control,	11	12	23
Total,	92	71	163

It appears from this table that of the entire number (163) of boys and girls in reformatory schools, only 12, or 7 per cent., were under the control of both parents, and only 23, or 14 per cent., under the control of one or both parents, showing that reformatories are really supplying to their inmates the want of parental control and support which may be taken as the chief cause of the crimes of those committed to reformatories.

Ages and state of instruction of boys and girls in reformatories.

This want of parental control and support is further shown in the state of instruction as indicated in the following table :—

AGES AND STATE OF INSTRUCTION OF BOYS AND GIRLS IN REFORMATORIES.	Aged 10 and under.	Aged 11, and above 10.	Aged 12, and above 11.	Aged 13, and above 12.	Aged 14, and above 13.	Aged 15, and above 14.	Under 16, and above 15.	Total.

It appears from this summary that of the entire number, (163,) only 15, or 9 per cent., could read and write well, and only 7, or 4 per cent., had received superior instruction, thus leaving 87 per cent. with a neglected education; it also appears that 75 of the entire number, or 46 per cent., were entirely ignorant, being unable to read or write.

In Ireland there are no certified Industrial Schools, the Consolidated Statute for maintaining these schools in England and Scotland (29 & 30 Vic., c. 118) not having been extended to this country.

It appears from the Police returns that the class for whose benefit Industrial Schools are intended is proportionally more numerous in Ireland than in England and Wales, the 3,227 vagrants and tramps in Ireland under 16 years of age being 1,533 in excess of 1,694 the number to be found in an equal population in England and Wales in 1865.

In previous reports I had occasion to notice the strange anomaly, that the power of sending lunatics to gaols was conferred on Justices in Ireland in 1838, the very year in which this power was taken away by statute in England.

A bill has been introduced by your Lordship, with every prospect of passing,* to put an end to this anomaly, and the power of committing lunatics to gaols will at the end of the present year be taken away.

The opening of new Asylums at Castlebar and Letterkenny, during the year 1866, led to a reduction in the number of lunatics in gaols in those counties from 45 in Mayo and 42 in Donegal on 31st December, 1865, to none in either county on 31st December, 1866. There was also a diminution in other counties, making, in the aggregate, a reduction from 482 lunatics under detention in gaols on 31st December, 1865, to 332 on 31st December, 1866.

These numbers do not, however, give a full idea of the importance of the change. In Mayo and Donegal, before the erection of the Asylums put an end to the continuous confinement of lunatics in gaols, there were 17 lunatics who had been between one and two years in gaol, 9 between two and three years, 14 between three and five years, and 4 between five and ten years.

In all Ireland there were, of those under detention at any time during 1866, 63 lunatics who had been between one and two years in gaol, 66 between three and five years, 47 between five and ten years, and 5 between ten and fifteen years.

The effect the new bill is likely to have is indicated by other figures. Of the entire number (1,235) of lunatics at any time under detention in gaols, in 1866, only 63 became insane in gaol or were found insane at Assizes or Quarter Sessions, whilst 1,149 were committed by Justices under the provisions of Stat. 1 & 2 Vic., c. 27, and 8 & 9 Vic., c. 107, which it is now proposed to repeal.

The improved forms of return have led to more complete and accurate statistics as to criminal lunatics in Ireland in 1866, than in preceding years.

The number of criminal lunatics in gaols and asylums, and the number discharged and under detention, are shown by the following summary :—

Criminal Lunatics.	Gaols.			Asylums (Estimate).†			Total Gaols and Asylums.
	Men and Boys.	Women and Girls.	Total.	Men and Boys.	Women and Girls.	Total.
Remaining under detention, . .	218	114	332	1,135	756	1,891	2,223

If the number of criminal lunatics in custody be compared with those in an equal population in England and Wales in 1865, we get the following result :—

Criminal Lunatics in Ireland compared with those in England and Wales.	Ireland, 1866.	England and Wales, 1865.		Irish Criminal Lunatics in custody in 1866 in excess of those in equal Population in England and Wales in 1865.	Irish Criminal Lunatics in custody in 1866 less than those in equal Population in England and Wales in 1865.
		Total.	Number in a portion of the Population of England and Wales equal to that of Ireland.
Remaining under detention at end of year,	2,223	1,032	271	1,952	–

* The bill passed while this report was going through the press (Stat. 30 & 31 Vic., c. 118). It provides that dangerous lunatics are to be sent to Asylums, and that they may be given up to their relatives on proper security. The Act also provides that the persons so committed may be discharged on recovery on certificate of the Medical Officer of Asylums like other lunatic poor without warrant of Lord Lieutenant.

† There being no return from Armagh in making up this estimate, I have added the numbers returned for Armagh in 1865 to those for other Asylums in 1866.

It appears from this comparison that in 1866 there were upwards of seven times as many lunatics under detention as criminals in Ireland, in proportion to population, as in England and Wales in 1865.

The cause of this difference forms an important subject of inquiry, whether it arises from the larger proportion of police in Ireland, or from the smaller number of private asylums, and smaller number of dangerous lunatics supported by their friends as mere lunatics, from the smaller number of idiots and lunatics supported in families assisted by outdoor relief, or from the apparently greater prevalence of drunkenness indicated by the police statistics, or from any other difference in the circumstance of the two countries.

The returns as to the offences with which the criminal lunatics under detention were charged are complete with regard to those under detention in gaols, and with regard to 2,239 of the number (2,341) detained in Asylums.

I have not in this table added those in gaols in Ireland to those in asylums, for as 560 lunatics were removed from gaols to asylums during the year, that number appears in both returns, and the returns do not distinguish the offences with which they were charged.

It appears from this table that the chief difference in the character of the offences with which criminal lunatics were charged in Ireland and in England and Wales is that in Ireland an extraordinary number were committed as simply dangerous persons at large—(1,149 in gaols, and 1,862 of those who had been committed to gaols and afterwards sent on to asylums), whilst there was only 1 committed of the same character in England and Wales in 1865.

The judgments or orders under which criminal lunatics were detained in Ireland in 1866 are contrasted with the corresponding statistics for England and Wales in 1865 in the following table :—

	Ireland, 1866. In Gaols.	England, 1865. Under detention.	Under detention in a portion of the population of England and Wales equal to that of Ireland.	Ireland, 1866. In Asylums.
Found insane,	16	188	49	159

Insane committed by Justices,	1,170	89	23	2,065
Total,	1,235	1,306	343	2,341

The principal new feature shown by this table is the extraordinary proportion of criminal lunatics in England and Wales that became insane while undergoing sentences of imprisonment as compared with the corresponding number in Ireland. These figures suggest matter for inquiry as to how far this difference may arise from the different systems of prison discipline in the two countries.

SUMMARY OF CONCLUSIONS IN REPORT.

The following is a Summary of some of the principal conclusions in this Report on the Irish Criminal Statistics for 1866.

1. The year 1866 presents a smaller number of persons for trial at Assizes, the Dublin Commission Court, and at Quarter Sessions, than any year of the last ten. The number has been reduced from 7,210 in 1857, to 4,326 in 1866, which shows a diminution of 2,884 cases or of 40 per cent. Allowing for reduction of population, the diminution of serious crime in Ireland in ten years is from 122 to 77 in each 100,000 of the population, or 37 per cent.

2. The chief unfavourable feature in the statistics of those for trial in 1866 as compared with preceding years, is the increase in treasonable-felony. There were no cases of treasonable-felony in 1863; there were 11 cases in 1864; 41 in 1865, and 52 in 1866. The continuous progress in the number of cases of this grave offence is in strong contrast to the general and progressive diminution of other crimes in the same years.

3. In connexion with the efforts to extend manufactures in Ireland the statistics afford satisfactory results. There was not a single person for trial for destroying machines or goods in process of manufacture in 1866. The number, however, for trial for riot and for feloniously demolishing buildings, machinery, &c., has increased from 1 in 1865 to 6 in 1866, and there were three persons tried during the year for offences connected with conspiracies or combinations to raise the rate of wages. These statistics are on the whole highly creditable to the tradesmen and labouring classes engaged in manufactures.

4. Two persons were executed in 1866, which is about the same number which 8 executions in England and Wales in 1865 would give for a portion of the population equal to that of Ireland.

5. The verdicts of wilful murder brought in by Coroners' juries in Ireland were 64, being 42 less than 106, the number which the 402 verdicts for murder in England and Wales in 1865 would give for a population equal to that of Ireland.

6. In the verdicts of Coroners' juries infanticide or murder of children under 1 year is distinguished from murders of persons above 1 year; and it appears that both infanticides and other murders were more numerous in England and Wales than in Ireland. Thus the number which the 175 verdicts of infanticide in England and Wales in 1865 would give for a population equal to that of Ireland is 46, while the number of verdicts of infanticide in Ireland was only 40; and while the 227 other verdicts of murder in England and Wales would give 60 for Ireland, there were only 24 returned.

7. Infanticides as compared with other murders are excessive in both countries; as there are 2·4 children under 1 year of age in Ireland in every 100 of the population, it follows that the 40 infanticides are 67 times the number of murders which occurred in Ireland in 1866, amongst the same number of persons at other age-periods.

8. The 46 infanticides in England and Wales, in a portion of the population equal to that of Ireland, was 25 times the number of murders in England and Wales in 1865 amongst the same number of persons at other age-periods.

9. The statistics of infanticide indicated by the verdicts of Coroners' juries in both countries are very startling, and resting as they do upon the sworn verdicts of a number of independent juries, before different Coroners, in all parts of both countries, the statistics are free from any prejudice which might lead to a wrong estimate or statement as to the excess of infanticide which is to be deduced from them.

SUMMARY OF CONCLUSIONS IN REPORT.

10. The entire number of indictable offences (not disposed of summarily) in Ireland in 1866 was only 9,082, being 4,668, or 34 per cent. less than the number (13,750) in a corresponding portion of the population of England and Wales in 1865.

11. The characteristics of Irish crime, indicated by the summary of indictable offences returned by the Police, and not disposed of summarily, correspond with those observed last year, the most unfavourable features being treasonable and seditious offences, malicious offences against property, riots, assaults inflicting bodily harm, and other assaults.

12. Of offences against property there is a much smaller number than in a corresponding portion of the population in England and Wales. In the offences of attempts to murder, shooting at, wounding, stabbing, &c., to do bodily harm, and manslaughter, the Irish statistics are more favourable than the English, and also in the statistics of unnatural offences, rape and immoral offences, perjury, and attempts to commit suicide.

13. In the minor cases of indictable offences (determined summarily) there are the same characteristics as those exhibited by the tables of graver cases (not determined summarily); the number of such offences is 21,859, being 2,784 or 11 per cent. less than the number (24,643) in a portion of the population in England and Wales in 1865 equal to that of Ireland; there is also less of theft, and of crimes indicating a low moral tone, such as aggravated assaults on women and children, than in England and Wales. On the other hand, there is a greater prevalence of malicious offences in Ireland.

14. There appears to be a greater excess of the less serious offences reported by the police and disposed of summarily, the number in Ireland being 214,976, as compared with 96,123, in an equal portion of the population of England and Wales. The excess of 110,348 (after deducting 8,505 for offences unclassed) is more than accounted for by the excess of offences under the four following heads: Drunkenness, in which the excess was 54,481; offences against Acts of Parliament, such as Ways Acts, Pawnbrokers' Act, Revenue Laws, &c., 48,828; offences against Vagrant Acts, 2,391; common assaults, 10,340; which make a total of 116,040.

15. That the excess of minor offences reported by the police most probably arises from the police being twice as numerous in proportion to the population as they are in England and Wales, is shown by the statistics as to prostitutes. Thus while it appears from the Police Tables that the number of prostitutes known to the police in Ireland in 1866 was 3,157 as compared with 7,249, in an equal portion of the population in England and Wales in 1865, there were 4,242 charges against prostitutes under the Vagrant Acts in Ireland in 1866 as compared with 1,851 in an equal portion of the population in England and Wales in 1865.

16. The comparison of the criminal classes in Ireland with those in England and Wales exhibits the very satisfactory result, that notwithstanding the large number of Police in Ireland, the number of criminal classes, other than vagrants and tramps, known to the Police in 1866 was only 10,118, being less than one-half the number (21,826) in an equal portion of the population of England and Wales in 1865.

17. In consequence of the difference in the Poor Laws and in the laws as to Industrial Schools in both countries, the vagrants and tramps are distinguished in the Tables from the other criminal classes, but the returns for 1866 exhibit a decrease as compared with the statistics for 1865 as well in the number of this class as in the number of the other criminal classes. The general decrease in the number of juvenile delinquents is very satisfactory, especially the decrease in the number of vagrants and tramps which had been increasing for several years.

18. The excess of vagrants and tramps of all ages in Ireland (amounting to 2,712), as compared with the number in an equal portion of the population of England and Wales, is very small when the difference between the proportion of the poor in receipt of Poor Law Relief in Ireland and in England and Wales is taken into consideration. The average daily number in receipt of relief in Ireland in 1866–67 was 50,241 in workhouses, and 12,205 outdoor, or 62,446 in all, being 188,053 less than the number (250,499), in receipt of relief in 1865, in a portion of the population of England and Wales equal to that of Ireland.

19. The Dublin Metropolitan Police are in the proportion of 1 to 302 of the population, while in the London district the force is in the proportion of 1 to 457 of the population. In the rest of Ireland the Police are 1 to every 450 of the population, and in the rest of England and Wales 1 to 902 of the population.

20. In the Statistics of Jurors' Sessions the different districts present great diversity in the number of qualified Jurors in proportion to population, from 1 in 56 of the population in Carlow to 1 in 250 of the population in Roscommon. This arises in part from the greater or less extent to which the leasehold tenure, upon which the qualification mainly depends, has been replaced in different districts by a yearly tenancy, which is not except in towns a qualification for a Juror.

21. The diversity in the number of Jurors arises in part from the extent to which the statutable provisions as to the qualifications are disregarded. It appears that in 27 districts out of 73 from which returns have been received, 2,909 persons were returned as Jurors with other than the statutable qualifications, being 7 per cent. of the entire number (41,251) of Jurors returned.

22. The number of criminal lunatics in Ireland under detention at the end of the year 1866 was 2,223, being 1,952 in excess of the number (271) under detention at the end of 1865, in a portion of the population of England and Wales equal to that of Ireland.

23. In the commitments to bridewells there is a decrease in the number of commitments for drunkenness, the numbers being 8,109 in 1863; 9,513 in 1864; 10,650 in 1865; and 9,782 in 1866.

24. In the number of commitments to county gaols there is a reduction of 3,429 from 32,857 in 1865 to 29,428 in 1866.

25. From the statistics of the birthplace of prisoners it appears there were less than 1 per cent. of the women and girls, and less than 4 per cent. of the men and boys not of Irish birth in Irish gaols, while in England and Wales there were 16 per cent. of the men and boys, and 26 per cent. of the women and girls in English prisons not born in England and Wales, and of these strangers no less than 12 per cent. of the men and boys and 21 per cent. of the women and girls were of Irish birth.

26. With regard to the education of the prisoners it appears that 36·7 per cent. of men and boys and 51·2 per cent. of the women and girls in Irish gaols could neither read nor write, being larger per-centages entirely destitute of instruction than the English per-centages of 34·9 per cent. of men and boys and 37·6 per cent. of women and girls. On the other hand, 36·5 per cent. of men and boys and 17 per cent. of women and girls in Irish gaols could read and write well. This is a marked contrast to the 3·7 per cent. of men and boys and 1·9 per cent. of women and girls in the English gaols returned as able to read and write well.

27. The statistics of the Irish gaols exhibit the very satisfactory result of the prisoners therein, both at the beginning and end of the year 1866, being not quite half the number in proportion to population in the English county prisons. The Irish prisoners appear, however, to have been dealt with much more leniently than the English prisoners, 262 having been discharged on pardon or commutation of sentence, while only 38 were so discharged amongst an equal portion of the population in England and Wales, and 863 having been released on bail as compared with 199 under similar circumstances in England and Wales.

28. With respect to punishments for prison offences the contrast between the Irish and English prisons is remarkable. There were 9,055 punishments inflicted in English prisons amongst 2,692 prisoners (the Irish daily average number), while there were only 1,966 punishments inflicted in Irish prisons amongst the same daily average number of prisoners.

Summary of Conclusions in Report.

29. Discipline was maintained in the Irish gaols without whipping, with less resort to irons or handcuffs, with about one-half the use of solitary or dark cells, and the stoppage of diet in Ireland was rendered necessary only 392 times as compared with 6,315 times in England and Wales amongst an equal daily average number of 2,692 prisoners.

30. In connexion with the maintenance of discipline in Irish gaols the greater proportion of officers, especially officers of a superior class, is to be observed the number of Chaplains in Ireland being 92, while there were only 39 in England, and the Local Inspectors being entirely wanting in England.

31. In convict prisons there was a diminution in the number of convicts received during the year from 312 in 1865, to 305 in 1866, being at the rate of 2 per cent., indicating a diminution to that extent in the more serious offences for which severe punishments were inflicted in 1866.

32. There was an increase of 3 in the numbers sent to reformatory schools in Ireland in 1866 as compared with the numbers in 1865.

33. Of the entire number of 163 boys and girls in reformatory schools only 12, or 7 per cent., were under the control of both parents, and only 23, or 14 per cent., under the control of one or both parents, showing that reformatories are really supplying to their inmates the want of parental control and support, which may be taken as the chief cause of the crime of those committed to reformatories.

JUDICIAL STATISTICS.

PART II.

IRELAND.

COMMON LAW—EQUITY—CIVIL AND CANON LAW.

RETURNS FOR THE YEAR 1866,

Compiled by Order of His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland,

COMPRISING

The Superior Courts of Common Law;

The High Court of Chancery, the Landed Estates Court, the Court of Probate, the Ecclesiastical Courts, the High Court of Admiralty, the Court of Bankruptcy and Insolvency;

The Supreme Courts of Appeal, viz.—the House of Lords, the Privy Council, Ireland, the Court of Appeal in Chancery, the Exchequer Chamber, the High Court of Delegates;

The Courts of the Chairmen of Counties and Recorders, and other Courts for the Recovery of Small Debts.

The Civil Jurisdiction of the Petty Sessions Courts.

INTRODUCTORY AND EXPLANATORY REPORT.

COURT OF QUEEN'S BENCH (Crown Side).

THE Court of Queen's Bench in Ireland has, at the Crown side, a jurisdiction corresponding to the jurisdiction of the Court of Queen's Bench in England, and also a jurisdiction peculiar to the Irish Court of fiating the Presentments made by the Grand Jury of the County of Dublin for the expenditure of the local tax, called county cess, in the repairs of roads, expenses of prisons and asylums, and other local purposes, and of fiating the Presentments of the Town Council of the City of Dublin, so far as it exercises the powers formerly vested in the Grand Jury of the City of Dublin in respect of county cess.

In connexion with these fiscal powers the Court has jurisdiction over the Traverses of Presentments of the Grand Jury or Town Council, chiefly for new roads and Claims for Malicious Injuries to property.

The Court has also a jurisdiction, peculiar to Ireland, in the case of Railway Traverses under the Railways (Ireland) Act, 1851 (14 & 15 Vic., c. 70).

The ordinary business at the Crown side of the Court of Queen's Bench as compared with the preceding year, may be judged of by the following summary:—

—	1866.	1865.	Increase, 1866.	Decrease, 1866.
Writs of Mandamus, application for, . .	7	14	–	7
Writs of Habeas Corpus, ...	22	19	3	–
Certiorari, Rules Nisi, ...	11	14	–	3
Information, Rules Nisi, ...	–	1	–	1
On Orders of Sessions and Special Cases, . .	1	–	1	–
Other Special Rules absolute, . . .	128	109	19	–

These figures show a large increase in Special Rules, an increase in Writs of Habeas Corpus, and a considerable decrease in Writs of Mandamus.

The unsatisfactory state of the jurisdiction of the Crown side of the Court of Queen's Bench in Ireland as compared with the corresponding jurisdiction in England, is indicated by the following statements and suggestions of the English and Irish Law and Chancery Commissioners, which have not yet been made the subject of legislation. The Commissioners state that—

"There are no published rules regulating the practice on the Crown side of the Court of Queen's Bench in Ireland, and the powers which the Judges of the Court of Queen's Bench in England have, under Stat. 6 & 7 Vic., c. 20, s. 11, of framing rules, do not exist in Ireland;" "there are other differences in the practice between the two countries, arising from the reforms introduced by the above Statute into England not having been extended to Ireland;" and they recommend, "that the Court of

COURT OF QUEEN'S BENCH (Crown Side).

Queen's Bench in Ireland should be provided with like powers to those of the Court in England, and that the proceedings and practice adopted in England by the Crown side of the Court of Queen's Bench should be extended to Ireland."

The business of the Crown side of the Court of Queen's Bench in Ireland, peculiar to the Irish Court, as compared with the preceding year, is as follows:—

—	1866.	1865.	Increase, 1866.	Decrease, 1866.
Fiscal Presentments:
Number,	706	702	4	–
Amount,	£77,860	£72,686	£5,174	–
Objections to Presentments,	3	–	3	–
Claims for Malicious Injuries,	9	3	6	–
Objections to Claims,	2	–	2	–
County Presentments—Claims—Trial by Jury,	–	1	–	1

An increase has again taken place in the amount of Fiscal Presentments, in the County and City of Dublin.

The claims for Malicious Injuries in the County and City of Dublin show a considerable increase above those for 1865.

SUPERIOR COURTS OF COMMON LAW.

Writ and Seal Office.

The issue of Writs for the three Superior Courts of Common Law from a Consolidated Writ and Seal Office was established in 1850 by the Process and Practice Act (Stat. 13 & 14 Vic., c. 18), and the Writs of Summons and Plaint are issued in rotation, 25 for each of the three Courts, under the provisions of the Irish Common Law Procedure Act, 1853, s. 15.

The plaintiff is by the provisions of the same Act prevented from issuing his writ until he has prepared his first pleading. As the summons and plaint corresponds to the English writ and declaration consolidated, the use of writs to the same extent as in England and Wales is thus prevented.

Writs.

The writs issued are compared with those in the preceding year in the following summary:—

WRITS.	1866.	1865.	Increase, 1866.	Decrease, 1866.
Summons and Plaint returnable to—
Queen's Bench,	5,025	4,842	183	–
Common Pleas,	5,032	4,900	132	–
Exchequer,	5,006	4,875	131	–
Writs issued for Revenue Cases,	224	420	–	196
„ of Revivor,	87	102	–	15
„ of Replevin,	11	15	–	4
Inquiries, Suggestions, &c.,	100	64	36	–
Records,	651	560	91	–

Amounts in Writs.

The amounts for which the writs were issued are compared with those in the preceding year, in the following table:—

—	1866.	1865.	Increase, 1866.	Decrease, 1866.
For sums not over £20,	4,844	4,654	190	–
Over £20 and not over £40,	3,793	3,688	105	–
Over £40 and not over £100,	3,463	3,424	39	–
Over £100,	2,758	2,567	191	–
Writs in which no sum specified,	205	284	–	79

Writ and Seal Office.

Writs of Execution.

The writs of execution were :—

—	1866.	1865.	Increase, 1866.	Decrease, 1866.
Writs of Ca. sa., . . .	1,523	1,411	112	–
„ of Fi. fa., . . .	2,534	2,625	–	91
„ on Fiats, ...	116	98	18	–
„ of Habere, . . .	405	416	–	11
„ of Sequestration, &c., .	35	38	–	3
Total, . .	4,613	4,588	25

These figures show an increase of less than 3 per cent. in the number of writs, and an increase of less than 1 per cent. in the number of executions.

Attorneys licences.

The number of Attorneys' licences sealed and entered were :—

In 1866, ...	1,163
In 1865, ...	1,130
Increase in 1866, . .	33

These figures show an increase of 33, which indicates a marked change, as there was a decrease of 102 in 1865.

Jurisdiction.

The jurisdiction of the three Superior Courts of Common Law corresponded very closely with the jurisdiction of the similar Courts in England from the introduction into Ireland of the Common Law of England in the reign of King John until the year 1828. Up to that year the differences in the practice and procedure between the Superior Courts of Common Law of the two countries were inconsiderable. But in the progress of law reform since then, the various Acts to reform the practice and procedure having been passed for the two countries at different times, considerable differences have been introduced, which are fully detailed in the First Report of the English and Irish Law and Chancery Commission made in 1863.

The existence of these numerous minute differences consequently creates an impediment in the way of any useful comparison of the statistics of the corresponding Courts in the two countries.

Bills founded upon the recommendations of the Commissioners to effect the termination of these differences have been introduced in successive Sessions but have not as yet received the sanction of the Legislature.

There has been a slight increase in the number of Case Judgments. The amount recovered on both kinds of judgments increased from £879,003 to £925,279.

Proceedings before a single Judge.

In Ireland there is not, as in England, a fifth Judge in each Court to sit out for Chamber Business. One of the four Judges consequently sits for each Court for ex parte motions before the sitting of the Court in Banco. Out of term the puisne Judges sit in rotation to hear motions for the three Superior Courts of Common Law.

The business before a single Judge, and in the Rules Office, as compared with the preceding year, may be judged of by the following summary, which shows an increase in 1866:—

There appears from the preceding table to have been an increase in some branches of the business before the full Court in Banco in the three Superior Courts of Common Law, and a decrease in others, but on the whole a slight increase, which, following an increase in 1865, shows continuous progress in the chief business of these Courts.

Bills of Sale, Acknowledgments by Married Women, and Revenue, &c., Cases.

Besides the business common to the three Superior Courts of Common Law at the Plea side, they have each small branches of distinct business. Thus, the Court of Queen's Bench has the registration of Bills of Sale, under the Bills of Sale Act (17 & 18 Vic. c. 36); the Court of Common Pleas has the Acknowledgments of Deeds by Married Women, under the Irish Act for the abolition of Fines and Recoveries (Stat. 4 & 5 Wm. IV., c. 92); and the Court of Exchequer has its ancient jurisdiction in Revenue cases, from which it derives its name.

The business in these matters as compared with the preceding year, is as follows:—

Special Jurisdictions of Queen's Bench, Common Pleas, and Exchequer.	1866.	1865.	Increase, 1866.	Decrease, 1866.
Queen's Bench.
Bills of Sale registered,	359	347	12	–

Legacy and Succession Duty Cases,	15	53	–	38
Motions in Court,	26	45	–	19
Motions for Attachments without Argument,	–	43	–	43

There was an increase in the number of Bills of Sale registered in 1866 as compared with the number in 1865.

There was a considerable increase in the number of acknowledgments by married women.

Superior Courts of Common Law.

In Revenue cases there was an increase of 100 per cent., and in Legacy Succession Duty cases a decrease of 71 per cent.

Registration of Judgments Office.

There is in Ireland, as in England, an office for the registration of Judgments common to the three Superior Courts of Common Law. In England the office is superintended by the Senior Master of the Court of Common Pleas. In Ireland there is a separate officer, called the Registrar of Judgments.

The Law and Chancery Commissioners in their Second Report, 1866, give an account of the difference of the law of Judgments in Ireland and England; they say:—

"As the result of our inquiries on the law of Judgments, it appears that while in England the tendency of the whole course of legislation down to and inclusive of the Act of 1864 (27 & 28 Vic., c. 112), has been to reduce a Judgment to a step in the course of procedure for the recovery of a debt, insomuch as by the last mentioned Act it is provided that 'no Judgment to be entered up after the passing of the Act shall affect any land of whatever tenure, until such land shall have been actually delivered in execution by virtue of a writ of elegit, or other lawful authority.' In Ireland, on the other hand, the legislation down to and inclusive of the Record of Title Act, 1865, has been in the opposite direction, and Judgments affect land in Ireland prior to and entirely independent of execution, and the writ of elegit has there been virtually abolished.

"The extent to which this difference in the course of legislation has affected the position of Judgments in the two countries, appears from a return showing that in Ireland no less than 11,611 Judgments, estimated to be securities for upwards of £12,000,000, have been re-registered within the five years ending the 31st December, 1864, and so far appear not to have been immediately executed, whilst in England and Wales the number of Judgments re-registered in the five years ending 1863 was only 1,778.

"Again, under the Judgment Mortgage Act, 12,000 statutable mortgages of land in Ireland, estimated to be securities for £4,000,000, have been created by the registration of affidavits as to judgments under that Act."a

a Second Report, 1866, p. xxi., et seq.

b Less discount, £51 6*s.* 7*d.*

The decrease of 3,611 in the number of judgments registered arose from the recurrence in 1865 of one of the quinquennial periods for the re-registration of old judgments obtained prior to 1850.

If the number of judgments registered be compared with the number entered up in the three Superior Courts of Common Law, it appears that, whilst 4,725 judgments were entered up, 3,937 were registered in the Registration of Judgments Office. When the Judgment Mortgage Act was passed it was expected by the framers of that Act that the amount of business in the Registration of Judgments Office would be diminished by its operation; but this expectation was founded upon the consideration of judgments only as charges on land, and the provisions of the Irish Bankruptcy Act of 1849, continued by the Act of 1857, requiring judgments to be registered within twenty-one days after being entered up, to secure priority in bankruptcy, were overlooked.

Common Law Taxing Office.

There is in Ireland one Common Law Taxing Office for the three Superior Courts, with two Taxing Officers.

The business in 1866, as compared with the preceding year, was as follows :—

Number of Bills of Costs certified.	1866.	1865.	Increase, 1866.	Decrease, 1866.
Records, &c.,	1,557	1,282	275	–

Certified Costs—Amount allowed,	43,512 13 10	47,798 5 8	–	4,285 11 10

It appears from this table that while there was an increase in the costs on records for taxation, there was a considerable falling off in the whole business of the Common Law Taxing Office, arising chiefly from diminution in the re-registration of judgments—the year 1865 being one of the quinquennial periods for the re-registration of old judgments, as above noticed.

In addition to the disposal of actions at the Consolidated Nisi Prius Court, the proceedings at which have been included in the summary already given of the Nisi Prius business of the three Superior Courts, it has an appeal jurisdiction from the Courts of the Recorder of the City of Dublin and of the Chairman of the County of Dublin.

Circuit Business.

The Nisi Prius proceedings on circuit have been included in the summaries of the business of the three Superior Courts.

Appeals, Traverses, and Claims for Malicious Injuries.

In Ireland the Judges on circuit have several branches of jurisdiction not exercised by the Judges on circuit in England, viz., appeals of the nature of rehearings from the decisions of the Chairmen of Counties or Irish County Court Judges, and Recorders ; the fiating of the presentments of the Grand Juries of the local tax in Ireland called Grand Jury Cess ; the hearing of traverses and objections to presentments, and claims for malicious injuries, and also the hearing of railway traverses under the Irish Railway Act, 1851 (14 & 15 Vic., c. 70).

The following summary shows the proceedings under these heads in 1866 as compared with those in 1865 :—

Appeals against rejection of such claims, .	7	10	3	–

The traverses and claims for malicious injuries for the County and City of Dublin are disposed of by the Court of Queen's Bench, and have been already noticed.

The decrease of 65 in the number of claims for malicious injuries on circuit, over the number for 1865, more than counterbalances the increase of 6 in the claims for malicious injuries in the County and City of Dublin.

The presentments fiated on circuit were 54,012 in number, and for the aggregate sum of £956,854 17*s.* 10$\frac{3}{4}$d. If the 477 presentments of the Grand Jury of the County of Dublin for £43,025 14*s.* 4*d.* be included, the total number of presentments by Grand Juries in Ireland amounts to 54,489, and the total amount of Grand Jury cess imposed in 1866 was £999,880 12*s.* 2$\frac{3}{4}$d.

The presentments for the County of the City of Dublin are made by the Town Council of Dublin, and fiated partly before a Judge of the Queen's Bench, as already noticed, and partly before the Recorder of Dublin ; but no return of proceedings before the Recorder of Dublin has been received. Those for the City of Cork are made by the Town Council of Cork, and are fiated before the Recorder of Cork.

HIGH COURT OF CHANCERY.

The High Court of Chancery in Ireland was founded so far back as the reign of King John, on the model of the Court of Chancery in England, and until the year 1828 the practice and procedure of the two Courts were very similar.

The different measures of Chancery reform which had been introduced in recent years in the two countries had led to considerable differences in the practice and procedure in the two Courts, which are fully detailed in the First Report of the English and Irish Law and Chancery Commission which was made in 1863.

The Chancery Act of the present session puts an end to nearly all these differences, and assimulates the practice and procedure of the Irish to that of the English Court.

Business in Court before Lord Chancellor, Master of Rolls, and Masters.

The following summary gives a comparative view of the Court business in Chancery for the years 1866 and 1865 :—

It appears from this summary that there was the considerable decrease of 14 per cent. in the Court business in 1866 as compared with 1865.

Registrars' Office.

The business in the office of the Registrars of the Court of Chancery, as distinguished from the Court business, is shown for 1866 and 1865 in the following summary :—

REGISTRARS' OFFICE.	1866.	1865.	Increase, 1866.	Decrease, 1865.
Number of Orders drawn up,	1,848	2,694	–	846

Fees received,	5,257 12 10½	3,996 15 2	1,260 17 8½	–

This summary shows a large decrease in the number of orders drawn up, and a decrease in the number of documents filed, but a large increase in the amount of receipts and disbursements on the accounts, and in the amount of fees received.

The proceedings in the office of the Lord Chancellor's Secretary are shown by the following summary :—

Lord Chancellor's Secretary's Office.	1866.	1865.	Increase, 1866.	Decrease, 1866.
Petitions :—
In minor matters, ...	405	358	47	–

Total orders, . . .	973	908	65	–
Warrants as to Magistrates' Commissions,	198	153	45	–

It appears from the above summary that there was an increase in minor and lunacy matters, in orders and in warrants as to Magistrates' commissions, and a decrease in petitions in other matters. The returns for 1866 show that the number of distinct minor-matters or families of minors under the protection of the Court increased from 394 in 1865, to 439 in 1866 ; and that the number of individual minors who are wards of Court increased from 819 in 1865, to 922 in 1866.

In the office of Secretary to the Master of the Rolls the number of petitions was only 239, as compared with 285 in 1865, showing a decrease of 46. These petitions are not in addition to, but form part of those upon which the Lord Chancellor in chamber made an order for hearing at the Rolls.

In the Crown and Hanaper Office there was a considerable decrease of business, from 1,938 in 1865, to 1,580 in 1866.

The business in the offices of the Four Masters in Chancery, in addition to the hearing of cause petitions under the 15th section of the Irish Chancery Regulation Act of 1850, is indicated by the following summary :—

Masters' Offices.	Three Masters.	Receiver Master.	Total, 1866.	Total, 1865.	Increase, 1866.	Decrease, 1866.
Charges, ...	423	28	451	433	18	–

Statements of facts as to management of property,	148	166	314	262	52	–

The returns also show the number of summonses on references in minor matters, lunacy matters, general cause petitions, &c. As the returns do not seem to have been made on the same principle, a summary is not given of them, but it may be stated that they indicate a great amount of reference business in the Masters' Offices.

Sales under the Court of Chancery increased from 16 in 1865, to 34 in 1866.

The number of accounts, other than in minor and lunacy matters (410) show a slight decrease on the numbers (445) in 1865. Notwithstanding the statutable restrictions on the appointment of Receivers, there is still, as indicated by these numbers, a large quantity of property under the management of the Court of Chancery. This is further indicated by the number of statements of facts as to the management of such property (314), which shows an increase of 52 on the number (262) for 1865. The receipts in the accounts filed in the Court of Chancery amounted in 1866 to £1,046,868, showing an increase of £200,671 on the receipts for 1865.

The operation of the rule, for some time in force, of referring receiver cases to the Receiver Master is shown by the number of accounts in his office (448), being an increase upon the number (399) in 1865, whilst the average number (57) in the offices of each of the other three Masters shows a falling off from the number (85) in 1865.

The fees collected in the Masters' offices amounted for the year ending 30th October, 1866, to £2,027, but this does not include the Chancery Fund duties in lieu of fees, which are imposed chiefly on business in the Masters' offices, and the produce of which is carried to the Consolidated Fund.

Examiner's Office.

One of the differences of practice and procedure between the Courts of Chancery in Ireland and in England is the very small number of witnesses examined before the Examiner in Ireland. Thus there were only 45 witnesses examined in 1866, and the fees amounted to only £61. This was about the number of witnesses (43) examined in 1865.

Companies Winding-up Acts.

Under the Joint Stock Companies Winding-up Acts there is only one case in the Court of Chancery, namely, the Tipperary Bank, which has been in the Court since 17th March, 1856. The usual proceeding for winding up companies in Ireland is in the Court of Bankruptcy. There is, in this case, £15,720 available for distribution.

Rolls Office.

In the Pleadings department of the office of the Deputy Keeper of the Rolls the business, as compared with that in 1865, was as follows:—

Rolls Office—Pleadings Department.	1866.	1865.	Increase, 1866.	Decrease, 1866.
Bills,	–	–	–	–
Cause petitions,	615	694	–	79
Answering affidavits,	222	218	4	–
Interrogatories and answers thereto,	–	1	–	1
Amendments,	63	67	–	4
Suggestions,	20	29	–	9

It appears from this summary that there was a considerable falling off in the number of cause petitions, viz., from 694 in 1865 to 615 in 1866.

Appearances and Writs Office.

In the office of the Clerk of Appearances and Writs the number of appearances entered was 678, as compared with 658 in 1865. The following are the numbers of the principal writs issued:—

Writs in Chancery.	1866.	1865.	Increase, 1866.	Decrease, 1866.
Writs of subpœna,	77	79	–	2

„ injunction,	51	38	13	–
„ fi. fa.,	20	5	15	–
„ partition,	1	1	–	–
„ error,	4	–	4	–

It appears from the foregoing summary that there was a slight increase in the number of writs issued in 1866.

There is a department of this office peculiar to the Irish Court of Chancery, called "The Notice Department," through which all notices are served, instead of service being proved by affidavit. The number of persons served through this department was 18,714 in 1866, showing a considerable decrease on the number of persons (21,912) served in 1865.

In the Affidavit Office the number of affidavits filed was 5,048, as compared with 4,977 in 1865, showing an increase of 71. Affidavit Office.

In the Recognizance Office the number of recognizances filed was 123, as compared with 118 in 1865. Recognizance Office.

The following Table shows the business in the Chancery Taxing Office for 1866, as compared with 1865 :— Chancery Taxing Office.

Chancery Taxing Office.	1866.	1865.	Increase, 1866.	Decrease, 1866.
Number of bills taxed,	1,895	1,600	295	–
Number of items,	258,480	201,180	57,300	–

Amount of Chancery Fund on summons and certificate,	£ 3,129 17 0	£ 2,516 11 4	£ 613 5 8	£ –
Amount of costs,	129,718 6 11	97,890 5 9½	31,828 1 1½	–

It appears from this summary that there was a considerable increase in 1866 in the amount of Chancery costs taxed.

The jurisdiction in lunacy under the Queen's Sign Manual has almost invariably been intrusted to the Lord Chancellor, or Keeper of the Great Seal in Ireland. The business to be transacted not being sufficient to support an entirely distinct department, it devolves, to a large extent, on the ordinary officers of the Court of Chancery, the references and passing of accounts being before one of the Masters in Chancery, and included in the business of the Masters already noticed. Lunacy Office.

The petitions again are lodged in the office of the Secretary of the Lord Chancellor, and are returned in the business of his office, whilst the inquisitions are issued from and returned to the Clerk of the Crown and Hanaper, and are included in the business of that office.

The jurisdiction was originally the same in Ireland and in England, but the new practice and procedure, introduced in England by the Lunacy Regulation Acts of 1853 and 1862, have not yet been extended to Ireland.

The number of orders for commissions of Lunacy was 8 in 1866, and 12 in 1865, and the number of lunatics under the care of the Court was 143 in 1866, as compared with 137 in 1865, showing an increase of 6.

In connexion with the small number of lunatics protected by the Court out of the entire number in Ireland, which may be estimated at 16,500,* the difference which exists between Ireland and England as to jurisdiction is to be borne in mind. A lunatic cannot be found so in Ireland except by inquisition at a considerable expense, necessary for the remuneration of Commissioners, Jury, and Sheriff; whilst in England, under the Lunacy Regulation Act of 1853, the Lord Chancellor can dispense with a jury, and authorize a finding under the general commission of the Masters.

The chief business in the Lunacy Office was as follows :—

Lunacy Office.	1866.	1865.	Increase, 1866.	Decrease, 1866.
Orders of the Lord Chancellor,	197	183	14	–
Affidavits,	283	251	32	–

Accounts taken by Masters,	64	66	–	2
Amounts of receipts on such accounts,	£ 61,212	£ 56,262	£ 4,950	–

* There were in January, 1865, 553 lunatics paid for in private licensed houses, 4,729 in public asylums, 188 maintained by Government, 452 in gaols, and 2,563 in workhouses, making 8,485 publicly treated as insane. The police returns for 1862 estimate that there were besides 8,200 persons reputed insane at large, making in all 16,685.—Vide 14th Report on Lunatic Asylums, Ireland, 1865, p. 7.

HIGH COURT OF CHANCERY.

The summary indicates an increase of business in 1866.

Under the General Orders in Lunacy of 1860, the Committees of the person are required to make returns, and the Medical Inspectors appointed thereunder to make reports as to lunatics under their inspection.

Accountant-General's Office.

The return of the Accountant-General shows the payments into the Court of Chancery during the year ended 1st October, and the balance on that day in the books of the office.

	Year ended 1st October, 1866.	Year ended 1st October, 1865.	Increase, 1866.	Decrease, 1866.

Balance at end of year, . .	4,256,648	4,357,392	–	100,744

These figures indicate only an insignificant change in the payments into Court during the year 1866, whilst the balance at the end of the year shows a decrease of £100,744; but this is only about 2 per cent. on the entire balance of £4,256,648.

LANDED ESTATES COURT.

The Landed Estates Court possesses several jurisdictions peculiar to Ireland. The first of these is the selling of Estates with a Parliamentary title, for which the Incumbered Estates Court was first established in 1849 for a limited time, and after several renewals of its jurisdiction the perpetual jurisdiction of the Landed Estates Court was established in 1858.

Sales.

The value and rental of the estates sold are indicated by the following summary :—

	1866.	1865.	Increase, 1866.	Decrease, 1866.
Amount of purchase-money, . .	£1,258,585	£1,051,992	£206,593	–
Net rental of estates sold, . .	£65,350	£60,338	£5,012	–
Number of sales, . . .	281	341	–	60

	Incumbered Estates.	Unincumbered.	Settled.
Petitions for sales, 1866, . . .	404	46	–
„ „ 1865, . . .	432	49	1
Decrease in 1866,	28	3	1

This shows that while there was a slight decrease in the number of cases, the properties sold must have been larger, as there was an increase in the aggregate purchase-money and rentals.

Declaration of Title, Partitions, and Exchanges.

In the other branches of jurisdiction with respect to estates, the proceedings were as follow :—

LANDED ESTATES COURT.	Declaration of Title.	Partitions.	Exchanges.	Intermixed Lands.	Apportionments of Rent.
1866, ...	18	11	1	–	2
1865, ...	4	6	2	–	1
Increase in 1866, . .	14	5	–	–	1
Decrease in 1866, . .		–	1	–	–

Several new tables have been given as to the proceedings of the Landed Estates Court for 1866, some of which were not included in the volume for 1865. They indicate the extent of the business of the Court in a form which may be compared with the returns received from the Court of Chancery.

It appears from these Tables that the number of petitions filed was 512, while in the Court of Chancery the number of petitions to the Lord Chancellor was 981, and the number of cause petitions under the 15th section of the Chancery Regulation Act was set down as 362, and the number of general cause petitions set down in Chancery during the year was 171.

The amount of costs taxed and certified in the Landed Estates Court was £45,082, but the amount of costs lodged for taxation was about the usual proportion of 33 per cent. above this amount, or £59,292. The return for the Court of Chancery shows only the amount of costs lodged,* which were certified during the year, and the sum is £129,718. LANDED ESTATES COURT. Taxing Of...

The number of affidavits filed in the Landed Estates Court was 4,365, while the number in the Affidavit Office of the Court of Chancery was 5,048. Affidavits.

Under the Tenure and Improvement of Land (Ireland) Act, 1860, the Landed Estates Court exercises two jurisdictions—1st. That of sanctioning improvements by limited owners, and giving them a charge by way of annuity; and 2nd. That of sanctioning building leases, and leases not within the exact terms of the Act or settlement of the particular estate. Tenure and Improvement of land.

There was no building lease sanctioned in 1866, and there were only 2 in 1865. There was 1 statement as to limited owners' improvements in 1866, but no order charging for such improvements, and 1 similar statement, without order, in 1865.

A return has been obtained for the year 1866, of the proceedings in the Record of Title Office, and it shows that the titles of 115 estates have been recorded, of the value of £295,507; and a certificate issued under the Land Debentures Act, authorizing £3,000 to be raised. Record of Title Office.

The jurisdiction of the Court of Probate is similar to that of the Court of Probate in England. COURT OF PROBATE.

The following is a summary of the leading heads of business of the Court and Principal Registry in 1866, as compared with 1865 :— Principal Registry.

* In the Judicial Statistics for 1865, the costs certified in the Landed Estates Court (£42,407), were compared with the costs lodged in Chancery (£97,890), instead of with the costs lodged in the Landed Estates Court (£52,803). My attention having been called to this matter, the explanation I received as to the return of the Chancery costs, has enabled me to set the matter right.

COURT OF PROBATE.

It appears from these summaries that the 1,729 probates and administrations granted in the Principal Registry, when added to the 1,431 granted in the District Registries, give a total of 3,160, or 58 in excess of the number (3,102) in 1865, thus showing a slight increase in the business of the Court. The number of causes in Court (131) shows an increase of 27 on the preceding year, whilst the number of causes tried (52) shows an increase of 10.

The Accountant-General of the Court of Chancery in Ireland is also Accountant-General of the Court of Probate. It appears, however, that there were only 2 accounts open on the 1st October, 1866.

From a return obtained from the Comptroller of Stamp Duties, Inland Revenue Office, Dublin, it appears that the amount of property under which probates and administrations were sworn in Ireland in 1866, was £6,307,880, and the amount of duty received thereon in the year 1866, was £99,212.

ECCLESIASTICAL COURTS.

The Ecclesiastical Courts and Registries Act (Ireland) 1864 (27 & 28 Vic., c. 54), came into operation on the 16th September, 1865. The proceedings in the 12 united Diocesan Courts created by the Act, in the half year ending 29th September, 1866, are compared with the proceedings from 16th September, 1865, till 25th March, 1866, in the following summary :—

ECCLESIASTICAL JURISDICTION IN OTHER THAN MATRIMONIAL CAUSES.	6 Months. 25th March, 29th Sept., 1866.	6¼ Months. 3½ in 1865. 2¾ „ 1866.	Increase.	Decrease.

Total Amount of Court Fees,	£197	£132	£65	–

It appears from this table that there was an increase in the number of causes other than matrimonial in the half year ended 29th September, 1866. The number of cases in the half year being 43, giving an average for the 12 united Diocesan Courts of about 4 causes for each Court in the year.

Divorce and Matrimonial Causes.

The change in practice and procedure introduced under the Ecclesiastical Courts Registries Act does not appear to have had any considerable effect on the number of divorce and matrimonial causes, the petitions for divorce in the united Diocesan Courts having been 4 in the six months, ended 29th September, 1866, and the petitions for alimony 3.

HIGH COURT OF ADMIRALTY.

The history of the High Court of Admiralty in Ireland is given in the Report of the Royal Commission which inquired into the Court in 1864.

It appears that "the jurisdiction of the Court of Admiralty had its origin in Ireland as in England, in the authority of the Admiral, of whom the Judge was the deputy." There were distinct Admirals for Ireland as early as 1414.

The present constitution of the High Court of Admiralty in Ireland depends upon an Act of the Irish Parliament, passed in the Session 1783–84 (23 & 24 Geo. III., c. 14), and upon the 8th Article of the Union (39 & 40 Geo. III., c. 67).

HIGH COURT OF ADMIRALTY.

Up to 1829 the jurisdiction of the Court of Admiralty in Ireland and in England in civil and maritime causes was in all essential respects the same; but the reforms introduced in England by various Acts since that time were not extended to Ireland. The bill introduced by your lordship to carry out the recommendations of the Commissioners will establish uniformity of practice and procedure.*

Returns were made by the Registrar and Marshal as to the business of the Court in 1863, and published in the Judicial Statistics for that year. No return was made by the late Registrar of the business in 1864, 1865, or 1866, but the forms of return required from this officer are given. The late Marshal also omitted to make returns, and the returns from the present Marshal being only for the portion of the year which elapsed from his coming into office on the 4th of June, the Table does not admit of any comparison being instituted.

BANKRUPTCY AND INSOLVENCY.

The jurisdiction in Bankruptcy and in Insolvency in Ireland is different from the jurisdiction in England, being regulated by the Irish Bankrupt and Insolvent Act, 1857, passed prior to the Bankruptcy Act of 1861, for England and Wales.

Bankruptcy.

The proceedings in Bankruptcy and in Insolvency are shown by the following summaries :—

This summary shows a slight increase in the number of petitions for adjudication in Bankruptcy, viz., from 104 in 1865 to 116 in 1866. There were 156 persons declared bankrupt in 1866, the number in 1865 having been 149.

BANKRUPTCY AND INSOLVENCY.

The Accountant-General of the Court of Chancery in Ireland was appointed Accountant-General in Bankruptcy and in Insolvency under the Irish Bankrupt and Insolvent Act, 1857, Stat. 20 & 21 Vic., c. 60, s. 407. But it appears that in neither 1863, 1864, 1865, or 1866 was any account open, nor were any of the funds of the suitors of the Court standing to his credit.

The following sums were standing to the credit of the Chief Clerk in Insolvency as appears from his return :—

A table has been compiled from the unpublished returns of the Official Assignees to Parliament under the Irish Bankruptcy and Insolvency Act, 1857, showing the state of the bankruptcies and insolvencies in the charge of each of the Official Assignees in 1866.

SUPREME COURTS OF APPEAL.

Returns have been received from the different Supreme Courts of Appeal.

House of Lords.

There were 2 appeals from the Exchequer Chamber in Ireland presented to the House of Lords in 1866, as compared with 1 in 1865, which is still returned as effective for hearing.

From the Court of Chancery in Ireland only 6 appeals were presented in 1866, and 1 in 1865; 1 decree was reversed, 2 cases were dismissed for want of prosecution, and 6 returned as effective for hearing.

Privy Council, Ireland.

The Privy Council in Ireland has original jurisdiction in some cases under the Church Temporalities Act. It also hears applications for the prohibition of burials in grounds where their continuance is alleged to be injurious. It has appellate jurisdiction in cases of tithe composition, and of improvement or dilapidation of ecclesiastical residences, and against Fishery By-laws. One appeal of the latter class was entered in 1866, and the judgment below reversed.

Chancery Appeal Court.

The proceedings of the Chancery Appeal Court in 1866 and 1865 are shown in the following table :—

Exchequer Chamber.

The comparison shows a marked decrease in the business in this Court. There was, however, an increase in 1865; so that the business in 1866 is about the same as in 1864.

In the Court Exchequer Chamber the number of proceedings in error and notices of appeal in error lodged was 6, viz. :—1 from the Queen's Bench, 4 from the Common Pleas, and 1 from the Exchequer. There were 4 remanets at the end of 1865, which were reduced to 3 remanets in 1866. There were 7 cases disposed of; of these, in 4 cases the decision of the Court below was affirmed, in 2 it was reversed, and 1 case was struck out.

The proceedings in the Exchequer Chamber upon registry appeals under the Irish Parliamentary Voters Act, 13 & 14 Vic., c. 69, were as follow:— SUPREME COURTS OF APPEAL. Registry Appeals.

1865,	1	–	1	–	–

In the High Court of Delegates one appeal was heard from the Metropolitan and Consistorial Court of Dublin, and the judgment below was reversed. An Admiralty appeal case entered in 1865 is still pending. High Court of Delegates.

The Courts of Chairmen of Counties in Ireland correspond to the English County Courts, but have a much earlier origin, having been founded so far back as 1796, by an Act of the Irish Parliament, Stat. 36 Geo. III., c. 25. COURTS OF CHAIRMEN OF COUNTIES.

The returns from these Courts are again incomplete.

Thirty Courts (out of the thirty-seven Chairmen and Recorders exercising similar jurisdiction in Ireland) have made returns, and from these the following results appear:—

It appears from these figures that of the Courts that have made returns the highest proportion of ejectments to civil bills was in the Court of Donegal, where the number of ejectments was 229, and of other civil bills, 2,979; and the least was in the Court of Galway town, where the number of ejectments was 5, and of other civil bills, 172.

The proportion of ejectments to other civil bills in	9 Courts in Leinster was 1 in 9
" " "	7 Courts in Munster was 1 in 21
" " "	8 Courts in Ulster was 1 in 19
" " "	6 Courts in Connaught was 1 in 13.

The proportion of cases heard with a jury was very small, the number being only 170, which is ·004 per cent. of the total number (35,474) of judgments, or 47 in 10,000 cases.

In the English County Courts the number of cases in 1865 heard with a jury was 823 of the total number (433,983) of judgments, or 18 cases in every 10,000, a much smaller proportion than in Ireland.

COURTS OF CHAIRMEN OF COUNTIES.

The statistics of the proceedings under the "Tenure and Improvement of Land (Ireland) Act, 1860," indicate results similar to those shown in previous years, viz., the almost total absence of proceedings under the Act.

Decrees and Dismisses.

The following Table shows the number of decrees and dismisses in twenty-nine Courts, in 1866, as compared with the number in the same Courts in 1865 :—

The returns made by the Sheriffs of the proceedings in respect of which fees are paid to them, under the Civil Bill Act, are not complete, eleven returns being wanting.

The returns both for 1865 and 1866 being defective, it is impossible to institute a comparison as to the proceedings of the Sheriffs. The most remarkable figure in the summary is the small number of replevin cases, there being only 8 in the 29 counties, and counties of cities and towns from which returns were received.

Local Courts.

Local Charter Courts.

The number of local Charter Courts in Ireland is very limited since the abolition of the manor courts in 1859 by Stat. 22 Vic., c. 14. The local Charter Courts still existing are the Lord Mayor's Court in Dublin, and the Courts of Conscience, where these jurisdictions were preserved by the Irish Municipal Corporation Reform Act in 1840. Returns have been received from all of these courts in 1866, and the following summary shows the business in that year compared with the business in 1865.

Local Charter Courts.	Number of Summonses issued.		Increase, 1866.	Decrease, 1866.	Number of Causes heard.		Increase, 1866.	Decrease, 1866.

This table shows a large decrease in the business of most of the local Charter Courts.

Civil Jurisdiction of Petty Sessions.

From the quarterly returns made to the Chief Secretary's Office a compilation has, as in former years, been made of the civil cases heard at the Petty Sessions Courts, and of the number of days in which Petty Sessions were held, and the number of days in which they were not held in consequence of the non-attendance of Magistrates.*

With regard to the civil jurisdiction of Petty Sessions Courts, it appears that in 545 courts out of 604, there were 91,560 cases, and if 10 per cent. be added for courts from which returns have not been received, it may be estimated that 100,000 civil cases were disposed of.

As the number of days on which Courts of Petty Sessions were held was 13,175, the 91,560 cases give an average of 7 cases a day for each court. These courts have, however, extensive criminal business besides.

The returns further indicate the number of days on which Petty Sessions were not held in consequence of the non-attendance of Magistrates. This number is returned as 1,206, as compared with 13,175 days on which Petty Sessions Courts were held, which gives a proportion of 8·3 per cent.; but this proportion is differently distributed in different counties in Ireland, varying from ·8 per cent. in Limerick Police Court, to 19 per cent. in Leitrim.

Conclusion.

The following is a summary of some of the principal results of the Irish Judicial Statistics for 1866:—

1. In the Consolidated Writ and Seal Office for the three Superior Courts of Common Law the number of writs issued was 16,136 in 1866, being 358 more than the number (15,778) in 1865, and the number of writs of execution was 4,613 in 1866, being 25 more than the number (4,588) in 1865. These figures indicate a slight increase in the pressure for debt.

2. The entire amount recovered on Judgments of different classes in 1866 was £925,279, being £46,276 more than the amount (£879,003) recovered in 1865.

3. There was a slight increase in the amount of business before the full Court in the three Superior Courts of Common Law.

4. There was an increase in the number of special rules on the Crown side of the Court of Queen's Bench, an increase in writs of Habeas Corpus, and a considerable decrease in the number of writs of Mandamus.

5. The reforms introduced in 1843, in the practice of the Crown side of the Court of Queen's Bench in England, have not yet been extended to Ireland.

6. There was an increase in the number of claims for malicious injuries in the County and City of Dublin from 3 in 1865 to 9 in 1866.

7. The number of bills of sale registered was 359, being 12 more than the number

(347) in 1865, and the acknowledgments by married women filed were 537, being 84 more than the number (453) in 1865.

8. There was an increase of 41 in the number of revenue cases, and a decrease of 38 in the number of legacy and succession duty cases.

9. In the Judgments Office there was a decrease of 3,611 in the number of judgments re-registered, arising from the circumstance that the year 1865 was one of the quinquennial periods for the registration of judgments in existence before 1850. The number re-registered in that year indicates the extent to which judgments are still a security for money in Ireland.

10. The number of causes tried at Nisi Prius in Dublin and on Circuit was 930 and the amount recovered by verdict £66,406.

11. The amount of Grand Jury Cess imposed in 1866 by the presentments fiated by the Judges on circuit and by the Court of Queen's Bench in Dublin amounted to £999,880, being £10,647 less than the amount of Grand Jury Cess (£1,010,527) imposed in 1865.

12. In the Court of Chancery the number of proceedings before the Lord Chancellor and Master of the Rolls and of cause petitions, before the Masters in Chancery, was 1,863, being a decrease of 316, or 15 per cent. on the number (2,179) of the proceedings in 1865.

13. The number of minors under the protection of the Court increased from 819 in 1865, to 922 in 1866.

14. In the Crown and Hanaper Office there was a considerable decrease in business from 1,938 Official Acts in 1865, to 1,580 in 1866.

15. The number of accounts other than in minor and lunacy matters was 410, being a decrease of 35 on the number in 1865. A large quantity of landed property appears to be still under the management of the Court of Chancery, the receipts on the accounts filed amounting to £1,046,868, being an increase of £200,671 on the receipts in 1865. The amount of Chancery costs in 1866 was £129,718, being an increase of £31,828 on the amount in 1865.

16. There was only one company being wound up in Chancery under the Winding-up Act, viz., the Tipperary Bank, and in this case there is £15,720 available for distribution. The usual proceeding for winding-up companies in Ireland is in the Court of Bankruptcy.

17. The number of lunatics under the care of the Court of Chancery in 1866 was 143, being an increase of 6 on the preceding year; and the incomes of 64 of these lunatics, indicated by the 64 accounts passed before the Masters, amounted to £61,212 in the year.

18. The extended jurisdiction for the care of the property of lunatics, established in England by the Lunacy Regulation Acts of 1853 and 1862, has not yet been extended to Ireland.

19. In the Landed Estates Court the number of sales was 281, and the purchase-money amounted to £1,258,585, showing a considerable increase on the amount realized in the preceding year.

20. In the Landed Estates Court in 1866 there were no building leases sanctioned, and no order charging for a limited owner's improvements, under the Tenure and Improvement of Land (Ireland) Act, 1860. There was only one statement as to such improvements presented.

21. In the Record of Title Office, under the recent Act, 115 estates were recorded, of the value of £295,507.

22. Under the Land Debenture Act one certificate was issued, authorizing £3,000 to be raised.

23. In the Court of Probate the total number of probates and administrations granted in 1866 in all the Registries was 3,160, showing an increase of 58 on the number granted in the preceding year.

Conclusion.

24. In the Ecclesiastical Courts there has been an increase in the number of causes other than matrimonial in the half year ended 29th September, 1866, the number of causes being 43, giving an average for the 12 united Diocesan Courts of about 4 causes for each Court in the year.

25. The changes in practice and procedure in the Ecclesiastical Courts do not appear to have had much effect on the divorce and matrimonial causes, there having been 4 petitions for divorce in the six months, and 3 petitions for alimony.

26. A return has been received from the present Marshal of the High Court of Admiralty, but only for the portion of the year subsequent to his appointment.

27. In Bankruptcy there was an increase in the number of petitions for adjudication from 104, in 1865, to 116, in 1866; and there were 156 persons declared bankrupt in 1866, the number in 1865 being 149.

28. With respect to the Supreme Courts of Appeal, there were only 2 appeals presented to the House of Lords from the Exchequer Chamber in Ireland, and 6 from the Court of Chancery; there were 28 appeals to the Chancery Appeal Court, being a decrease of 24 on the number in 1864; in the Court of Exchequer Chamber there were only 4 memoranda of error, and 2 notices of appeal, and 3 registry appeals; and in the High Court of Delegates there was 1 appeal lodged from the High Court of Admiralty.

29. In the Courts of Chairmen of Counties and Recorders, there was a diminution in the number of decrees in 1866 as compared with 1865 (in the 29 courts which have made returns in both years) of 4,621 (or 14 per cent.), viz., from 32,897 in 1865, to 28,276 in 1866.

30. There was a large decrease in the business of the Lord Mayor's Court in Dublin, and in the Local Courts of Conscience.

31. The returns of the Civil cases at Petty Sessions show 91,560 cases in 545 out of 610 courts. Adding 10 per cent. for courts from which no returns were received, it may be estimated that 100,000 civil cases were disposed of at Petty Sessions in 1866.
